AUSTRO-GERMAN FOE MASSING ATTACK AT ONE POINT IN LINE

Tremendous Weight of Men and Guns Is Thrown Against Italians at Bend
of Piave River West.

CRUCIAL STAGE OF BATTLE REACHED

Rome, Nov. 22.—The Austro-Germans invading northern Italy reached a few of the Italian outstanding positions on the Italian advanced lines on Monte Fontana Secca, but elsewhere the Teutons were repulsed, the war office announced today.

MASSING ATTACKS.

Italian Army Headquarters, Wednesday, Nov. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—The greatest mass attack which the enemy has made in progress since the upper Piave river at the point where it bends to the north-east in the Belluno Alps. As the action proceeds the enemy is bringing forward fresh masses of his reserves, including picked troops of the Prussian guard, besides some of the best German troops drawn from the western and Russian front. He also has 20,000 mountain troops in lower Hungary, troops which are noted for their brutal vandalism.

The action through the day has shifted westward from Monte Tomba and Monte Montefenera to the slopes of Monte Peretola, where the enemy rushes have been checked. The Italian positions remain substantially unchanged in the region of Monte Grappa, which dominates the whole region of lower hills. The monitor fleet which is co-operating with the Italian fleet off the mouth of the Piave is shelling heavily the enemy positions menacing Venice. A number of American Red Cross ambulances passed through headquarters today toward

Summary of the Day's War News

Further progress by General Byng's victorious army towards Cambrai is reported today. British troops pushed along the Bapaume-Cambrai road and captured the town of Fontaine Notre Dame, two and three-quarters miles from Cambrai.

Today's war office statement from London confines itself to reporting this single operation. What is going on within the remainder of the wide field of the British offensive so spectacularly begun on Tuesday, remains veiled by official reticence.

News dispatches from London, however, indicate that everything has not been told of the extent of the British victory. Emphasis is laid on the fact that the cavalry is reported in action in large numbers while some reports declare that the British forces have pushed northward from Graincourt.

LONDON BELLS WILL PEAL REJOICING OF LAND FOR VICTORY

London, Nov. 22.—The bells of London probably will peal today for General Byng's victory, and if the proposal is adopted it will be the first time since the war began that the bells have rung for any rejoicing. The Times says it has questioned the authorities concerning the proposed ringing and has found it favorable. The bishop of London highly approved the idea and already has notified the clergy of the purpose. The lord mayor is equally enthusiastic.

for Tactics Said to Be

CAVALRY HAS NOT BEEN RELEGATED

Haig Clung to His Horse
Troops Long, But Was Rewarded.

British Army Headquarters in France, Wednesday, Nov. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—The present battle more than any other in the western theater has taken on the savor of fighting in other wars when men struggled in the open and have made brilliant charges against enemy guns. Many military critics have long contended that cavalry was a thing of the past, but the mounted men have refuted this claim.

Field Marshal Haig has clung to his horse troops throughout the weary months of trench fighting. He believed that some day he would have a chance to use them and his judgment has been vindicated. Field Marshal Haig's blow against the Cambrai front represents true strategy. He had hammered at the enemy in Flanders until they were worn out completely. He had driven them back as far as the mud would permit and had compelled them to call on every ounce of strength they had to maintain themselves. Then he suddenly sprung his surprise attack in an unexpected quarter.

Hindenburg's Strongest Lines.
The Hindenburg lines on the Cambrai front were the strongest the Germans had laid out in the west. The enemy considered them impregnable. They were heavily fortified but they were protected by a thick belt of barbed wire, which it was thought that only a protracted bombardment by great concentration of guns would sufficiently to allow the infantry to go through.

British tanks had never before been called upon for such extensive work, but they did in a few hours what the artillery would have required days to accomplish. The Hindenburg line was pierced absolutely on a wide front and to a greater depth than ever before. The correspondent today inspected the main Hindenburg line. He found it in a state of complete confusion and saw the amazing work done by the iron monsters. In most places they had no trouble either in tearing down the wire or in crossing trenches. There were gaps in the wire entanglements a rod in width where not one vestige of wire was left standing and by following the tracks of the tanks one could see where they had trundled across the trenches as though they were merely scratches in the mud.

YEGGMEN CRACK A HOOSIER BANK AND TAKE MUCH

Franksville, Ind., Nov. 22.—The State bank here, the leading financial institution of the town, was visited by yeggmens at 3 o'clock this morning. The safe was blown and $5,000 worth of Liberty loan bonds, $500 belonging to the army Y. M. C. A. fund, and all of the bank's cash, amounting to $3,000 was taken. The robbers escaped in an automobile. The authorities have no trace of the robbers.

DAN SHAY FOUND NOT GUILTY OF KILLING NEGRO

Indianapolis, Nov. 22.—Dan Shay, former manager of the Milwaukee American association baseball club, was found not guilty by a jury 9:30 o'clock this morning of the charge of second degree murder. Shay shot and killed a negro waiter in a local hotel cafe the night of May 3 last. Shay contended he shot in self-defense. Shay was discharged by the court a few minutes after the verdict was returned. He left the court room immediately. Throughout the trial and while the verdict was read Shay did not display the least sign of emotion or unusual interest. The case went to the jury late last night. But two ballots were taken by the jury before it agreed. It was ready to report when court convened today. Shay had been in jail since the night of the shooting.

GOVERNMENT OF RUSSIA MAKES A MOVE FOR PEACE

Petrograd, Wednesday, Nov. 21.—The Russian government yesterday ordered General Bukhomin, the commander-in-chief, to open negotiations for an armistice with commanders of the enemy armies. The proposal to negotiate peace was officially conveyed to the ambassadors of the allied nations at Petrograd.

OFFICERS BEGGED

Men Back from the Front
Line Trenches Wear
Long Beards.

With the American Army in France, Wednesday, Nov. 21.—The detachments of the American army which have just returned from a tour of duty in the front line trenches were badly in need of shaves when they arrived at their billets. On many faces beards had made a good start and although the soldiers cared little about their appearance while in the trenches their first thought on getting out was to procure razors. The American soldiers are ready to swear by the new caps they wear under their shrapnel helmets. Most of them removed their helmets as soon as they were out of the fire zone and officers remarked that the caps greatly improve the appearance of the soldiers. The men wear their cocked smartly over one ear. Each cap has a little regimental number near the front. Troops belonging to units which have seen more action than the troops had stories to tell and the men themselves listened attentively during the long ride on the trucks on the return to the billets. Most of the motor trucks arrived at the billet towns after midnight. The soldiers were dismissed promptly, but each took a bath before he went.

One officer said his hardest job in the trenches was refusing permission to go on patrol, adding: "All want to go all the time, which is impossible."

BERLIN VERSION OF NAVAL FIGHT SOME DIFFERENT

Berlin, Nov. 21.—(Via London.)—The German admiralty has issued the following statement on the recent engagement near Helgoland:

"In the engagement during the British advance into the German bight Saturday three participants on the English side in addition to a large number of small cruisers and destroyers, according to reliable observations by German naval forces and airplanes, six large fighting vessels—ships of the line or battle cruisers. The British naval commander, as opposed to the report of the English admiralty, which speaks only of light forces, will not be uncertain on this point. "The advance of the British was opposed quickly by the Germans with adequate forces, which caused the enemy to retire. According to reliable observations by German forces a number of hits on enemy ships and destroyers were obtained. German airplanes also took part in the fight and bombarded the large English warships."

An opportunity has been offered the school teachers of Allen county and Fort Wayne to assist the government in the present crisis. The call has been made by both the president and the government and all teachers who can give an hour or more of evenings and on Saturdays between December 1 and 15 in assisting the various exemption boards are asked to call D. O. McComb, superintendent of the schools of the county.

The following letter from Horace Ellis, state superintendent of public instruction and chairman of the educational section of the state council of defense, was received Tuesday by Mr. McComb and is self-explanatory:

"The president of the United States has called upon the governor, adjutant general and the school teachers of Indiana for patriotic assistance. "Between December 1 and 15 each local exemption board in Indiana must have completed all preliminary steps necessary to put into operation the new regulations for the execution of the selective service law. This will call for clerical help. All teachers who can give an hour or more to the service of their country should immediately offer to their local exemption board such time and service as they can possibly give.

"The provost marshal general of the United States says: 'In response to the president forward to the new regulations, school teachers and clerks are making splendid offers of co-operation and this is a good opportunity to utilize such services. An appeal by the governor to school teachers would

TO TRAIN 15,000 MEN FOR SIGNAL WORK AS FLIERS

Washington, Nov. 22.—The federal board for vocational education announced today that in response to the call for training of 15,000 drafted men as radio and buzzer operators for the signal corps, the schools of the country are not only now instructing more than two thousand students but that number will probably be doubled within the next two or three weeks. Special efforts were being made to establish training classes in every large city.

ALL IS NOT YET TOLD OF MIGHTY DRIVE OF BRITISH

Victory in France Is Being Extended
Hour by Hour and Its Extent Is Not Given to Public.

BRITISH PEOPLE TAKE IT VERY QUIETLY

London, Nov. 22.—Thus far England has taken quietly Field Marshal Haig's big victory in France. This morning, despite the big headlines and eulogistic articles in the newspapers and the feelings of quiet exultation evidenced in private, the public went about its business as usual. Not an extra flag was flying and the bells have not yet aroused the people to a realization of what their armies have done in France.

Unlike the Englishmen of the South African war days, when the capture of a town, the release of a garrison or the defeat of a handful of Boers was made the occasion of street demonstrations, those of today take the victories soberly and content themselves with the expectation of bigger things to come.

It is generally known that all has not been told of the extent of the victory in France which is being extended hour by hour. The people were thrilled this morning when they were permitted to know for the first time that the cavalry had been in the action not only in clearing the battlefield, as it had done on several occasions during the past year, but in actually charging artillery and infantry and in widening the breach in the German line, long acclaimed as "impregnable."

A lieutenant, whose home is in Wyoming, saw the man was in danger of immediate death and went out over No Man's land through a hail of enemy machine gun bullets several hundred yards, got the soldier and led him back to the American lines amid cheers.

After being rescued, the soldier said that when he looked over the top of Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 22.—James Johnson, a veteran, Pontiac, Ind., miner, today filed suit here for judgment of $200,000 against the Coal Bluff Mining company, on a verbal contract which he says was entered into in 1887. He alleges that the late J. Smith Tally, head of the company at that time, agreed to pay him for his services as superintendent of the company's mines, one-seventh of all the company's profits in addition to a salary. He says he began work in December, 1887, and continued until November, 1915, but that the one-seventh of the profits were not paid him. He reserves the right to amend the suit should interrogatories asked for show that more than $200,000 is due him. The company is now operated by Tally's sons.

BRITISH LOSE ELEVEN AIRPLANES IN BATTLE

Conditions on Cambrai Battle Front Wretched for Flying.

London, Wednesday, Nov. 21.—An official statement on aviation operations issued tonight said that only five German machines were seen on the Cambrai battle front yesterday. The British machines worked against the difficulties of mist and rain and eleven of them are missing. The statement reads:

"On Tuesday our airplanes attempted to work throughout the day in conjunction with our operations between St. Quentin and the river Scheldt. Low clouds of mist and a strong westerly wind with an occasional drizzle of rain throughout the day made it necessary for our patrols to fly fifty feet from the ground. Even at that height they were at times quickly lost in the mist."

"Continued attempts were made to maintain contact with our advancing troops, but this was rendered almost impossible by the weather conditions. Many bombs were dropped on enemy batteries, long-range aeroplanes, transport and railways. Batteries and small groups of infantry were attacked with machine gunfire. Very valuable information was gained despite the very difficult weather conditions."

"Only five hostile machines were seen all day on the battle front. Eleven of our machines are missing, their loss being due to the mist and exceptionally low height at which they were compelled to fly."

The seventh German war loan, subscription to which closed recently, totaled 12,430,000,000 marks (approximately $3,107,500,000). The total of the seven loans is 72,420,300,000 marks ($18,104,075,000).

MURDERS HIS SLEEPING CHILDREN; SLAYS SELF

Indiana Miner, Distracted by Wife's Death and Drink, Ends All.

Sullivan, Ind., Nov. 22.—Dave Johnson, 38, a miner, living near the Wilfred mine, five miles northeast of here, shortly before 7 o'clock this morning shot and killed his two little children as they lay beside him in bed, and then turned the revolver on himself, inflicting a wound in the head which resulted in his death three hours later. Grief over the death of his wife three months ago is held responsible for the tragedy and a note found near a table in the bedroom bore out this theory. The note read: "I could not stand to leave my little ones, as I am taking them with me to see mamma."

The triple tragedy was discovered by neighbors, who heard the sound of the shots, when they rushed into the room to find the three victims lying side by side on the bed in a pool of blood. Johnson and the youngest child, two years old, were still alive, both having been shot through the head. The eldest child, four years old, had been shot in the heart and death apparently was instant.

Johnson is said to have grieved constantly since the death of his wife, about three months ago, and his despondency led to his drinking, it is said. For a time he has had in his employ a housekeeper to care for his wife and children, but she is said not to have been there last night and was not at home this morning.

Sheriff Orville Hale and Coroner J. H. Neff were notified of the tragedy and took charge of the case.

"CONDITIONS DEPLORABLE"

So Says S. B. Bechtel After Visit to Eastern Cantonment.

FUTURE GENERATIONS ARE IN GREAT PERIL

Citizens Must Come to Support of Y. W. C. A. Cause at Once.

"I have just returned from an eastern trip where I had an opportunity to learn of some of the conditions both as to our boys in camp and the girls in surrounding territory," said S. B. Bechtel, general manager of S. B. Bowser & Co., in a signed statement for the press last evening. "These conditions are so deplorable that I am convinced that much of what the Y. W. C. A. is doing in the camps of this country will be useless so far as future generations are concerned, unless the work now planned by the Y. W. C. A. is accomplished, and that at once. I believe the work is the most necessary and important service we can render at this time for the protection of this and future generations. The need is most imperative." The opinion of Mr. Bechtel will interest hundreds of Fort Wayne men who, like one who gave his opinion yesterday, that "the girls have no business around the army camps—they weren't there in civil war times." The fact is that inside the camps alone there is an average of one-half as many women as there are men, this immense number being made up of regularly employed government female employees, and the visitors like the scores of Fort Wayne people who are today at Hattiesburg. In addition to these, with thousands of soldiers "lost" to the camps, the towns and cities, seeking night but entertainment and recreation, every cantonment center swarms with girls who have been imported from every quarter to work in the great eating places, amusement halls and elsewhere to meet the demand of the men from the camps for something to eat and something to do for amusement. These are all legitimate and necessary. The man who declared that "the girls have no business around the army camps" had in mind the class which is there nevertheless and whose sinister influence on the greater mass of high-class girls brings the picture of the immediate perils of the young men and the young women who have not yet fallen into immoral ways, as well as the menace of the future generations.

One-Fourth of Quota Is In. Considerably more than one-fourth of the quota of the Fort Wayne district in the week's campaign had already been subscribed when the various reports were made last evening. The association building last evening. The detailed report follows:

Mrs. Corey ..... $ 480.00
Mrs. Jacobs ..... 448.50
Mrs. McBride ..... 397.50
Mrs. Meriwether ..... 75.00
Mrs. Mohler ..... 32.75
Mrs. Morton ..... 12.75
Mrs. White ..... 82.00
Mrs. Zahrt ..... 310.25
Miss Hines ..... 318.50
Miss Hoff ..... 387.50
Executive committee ..... 400.00

Day's total ..... $3,104.25
Previously reported ..... 2,646.50

Grand total ..... $5,750.75

Some of the larger donors to the fund follow:
W. E. Mossman, $200; Mrs. F. J. Thiem, $200; Lutheran hospital, $200; Mrs. George Evans, $150; S. M. Foster, $100; Mrs. S. M. Foster, $100; Mrs. Fred McCulloch, $50; Mrs. William Wooding, $50; The Y. W. C. A. campaign, $50; and part of the girls in the office of the Wayne Knitting Mills, $65.50.

Banner Shows Amount. A large banner hangs above Calhoun street between the Meyer Drug Co. and the Grand Leader, on which appears the slogan, "Make the Y. W. C. A. Campaign Grow." Above the slogan and on the banner is a scale of figures between $1,000 and $21,000, the latter figure the necessary quota. An arrow suspended from a wire above the banner points to the amount raised daily by the teams in the campaign.

What E. G. Hoffman Says. "I am very much in sympathy with the Y. W. C. A. campaign now in progress over the entire country," says Edward G. Hoffman. "There are two sides to the problem confronting the men in the cantonments and in the army in France. Last week we generously contributed to the bigger problem, that of caring for the men. The other side of the question is to take care of the women, in or about the cantonments and around the army in France. This, in my opinion, is quite as important as the problem concerning the Y. W. C. A. I, therefore, most heartily endorse the Y. W. C. A. campaign and believe it is the duty of everyone to assist in this most worthy cause."

On Par With Red Cross. "I feel that the Y. W. C. A. work is on a par with that of the Y. M. C. A. and the Red Cross," says Fred J. Thiem. "If it is worth while to save men and make them efficient as soldiers, it is equally as essential to save women to make them efficient as mothers for the future generation. God bless the country depends more upon its mothers for the future than upon its soldiers. It is not for me to give an explanation as to what the Y. W. C. A. is doing, but I consider it the duty of every man to investigate and become interested."

What A. Meigs' Views. "What I think of the need of the Y. W. C. A. campaign," says A. Meigs, "is the same as what I think of the whole war, namely, that no man or woman who calls himself an American has any business more important than to help the war effort, promptly and cheerfully. When it comes to patriotic sacrifice none is greater than that of the women who have gone from choice and we owe them protection and comfort."

"Saving Our Soldier Boys." The success of last week's campaign proves that the American people realize the work and importance of the war work of the Young Men's Christian association," says George H. Van Arman. "I am convinced, and I hope everyone else is, also, that the Young Women's Christian association's war work is of equal importance and that it is equally as important to the object—the saving of our soldier boys."

What Dr. George S. Bliss Says. "There is no one in the state who values the class of work that is being done and being attempted by the Y. W. C. A. any more than myself," says Dr. George S. Bliss, superintendent of the Indiana School of Feeble-minded Youth. "I have given as generously as I possibly could to both of these causes, and feel that the money is well spent. I only wish that I was able to give more." The Y. W. C. A. work ought to be fully as important from the point of view of protection of our soldiers as the work of the Y. M. C. A. Lure of the Uniform. In looking into conditions in the cantonment towns, the Y. W. C. A. finds that while a new atmosphere has been created everywhere by the war, it is especially in these places. There is a subtle temptation to ignore standards and their restraints. Girls are eager to share with the boys in patriotic service. It is inevitable that when they are not in line for recognition they will go in search of adventure. The lure of the army uniform is very real. The uniform symbolizes sacrifice and gallantry—qualities which make a great appeal to the imagination. Therein lies the danger. The government at Washington has taken a strong hand. It has attempted to abolish the moral and physical dangers which menace men in training camp. This cannot be done without the intelligent co-operation of women. Girls and women everywhere must be enlisted to help keep our men fit for the mighty task to which they are committed.

What the Y. W. C. A. Is Doing. The work of the war council of the Y. W. C. A. has resolved itself into sending out trained investigators to learn the needs of the thousands of women and girls in localities adjoining the camp-towns and naval training stations and to report on the resources available in these communities in caring for their women and girls. It pays the salaries of especially equipped women as directors and cafeteria managers in such centers as are determined by the council to be in the best interests of the Y. W. C. A. It furnishes rent and equipment of houses and clubrooms and cafeterias for the girls resident in the communities near the camps, and aids in securing housing accommodations for the young women who are strangers in the city. Where invited by the army authorities and by the representative of the federal commission on training camp activities, it builds, equips and provides workers for hostess houses which are used as meeting places for women relatives and friends visiting the men in service in the army camps. It provides salaries and traveling expenses of specially appointed secretaries who are being sent to Russia, France and England at the request of leading Christian workers in those countries, to act as advisers and to help in the plans which are necessary in the reconstruction work for the women in European lands. In many other fields of patriotic endeavor it is doing its large part to preserve the morals and sustain the health of those upon whom rests the responsibility for winning the war.

Problem of the Cantonment. It is an unprecedented condition to have set down in the midst of a quiet rural community a great cantonment of 30,000 or 40,000 soldiers, but this is what has happened in the cantonment towns of our country. Indeed, Fort Wayne appeared likely to have such a situation until it lost its coveted "prize" to a southern city. The first effect of the securing of one of these cantonments appears to be one of helplessness. But American men and women are not prone to remain long inactive. The community which have been most alert have seen that there must be communication to meet the unusual situation. Mothers who have been too busy to see the trend of affairs are called together and are made aware of what their daughters are already meeting of new and unfamiliar experiences. Inter-mingling with these daughters are the hordes of strange girls who have been drawn through necessity, through the spirit of adventure, or through questionable plans, into the cantonment towns, until the former social condition of the place is entirely changed. Where the Y. W. C. A. is actively doing its work, the organization, enlarged in capacity to meet the new need, is taking the lead in solving the problem of the town. In many cantonment towns—those of smaller size—where the Y. W. C. A. is not yet established, the association is going in and co-operating with the local organizations in establishing methods which have proven to be the most effective through the half-century of experience of the splendid organization.

Location of Hostess Houses. Already the Y. W. C. A. has constructed hostess houses at Plattsburg and Youngstown, N. Y., and Allentown, Penn.; Junction City, Kan.; Ayer, Mass.; San Diego, Linda Vista, Presidio (San Francisco), Cal.; American Lake, Washington; Deming, New Mexico; Lawton, Okla.; Fort Worth, Texas; and Yaphank, Long Island. "And what do we do in hostess houses?" asks a Y. W. C. A. worker. "We afford a cheery place for the meeting of women and their soldier men—women bringing courage and those seeking courage; women with their joys and women with their sorrows. We give a service to hostess house wrought for that mother who came to take home the body of her boy who died or he saw a battlefield; it was a ready service it was able to do for a woman suddenly taken violently ill so far away from home. It is no small service that the volunteer hostess gives these women who come so far to see him."

News of Our Neighbors

KILLED BY A HORSE.
Wells County Boy Victim of an Accident.

Bluffton, Ind., Nov. 22.—Edwin Elzey, aged 4 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Elzey, living near St. John's church in Union township, died in a Fort Wayne hospital at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from injuries inflicted early in the day when he was kicked in the head by a horse at the barn at his home.

The fatal accident occurred when the little boy ran behind a horse in a stall. His father had gone to the barn to look after morning chores. The child's skull was crushed and he was picked up unconscious and did not regain consciousness. He was hurried to a Fort Wayne hospital in the hope that an operation might save his life, but all efforts to save him were futile.

The body was brought yesterday morning to the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Elzey, at Ossian, and it was stated that the funeral will be held Friday afternoon at Ossian.

The mother is almost prostrated from the shock.

PIECE OF STEEL REMOVED.

Huntington, Ind., Nov. 22.—Frank Bailey, an employe of the Erie railroad, has returned from Rochester, Minn., where a piece of steel which was threatening to enter an artery, was removed from his neck. The fragment cut Emley's jugular vein in an accident, thirteen months ago, and several weeks ago it was discovered that the steel was working through the flesh and nearing an artery. A well dressed young man, who talked with a slight German brogue, swindled three Huntington merchants out of two overcoats, some toilet articles and $33 in cash Monday by presenting a larger check than the amount bought and getting change in cash. He gave the name of O. P. Mueller, and said he was working at a factory in Huntington. His familiarity with local banks and business houses led two clothing men and a druggist to let him have merchandise and cash.

SHREDDER ACCIDENT.

Bluffton, Ind., Nov. 22.—Wills Eversole, living seven and one-half miles north of Uniondale, suffered a terrible injury when he caught his right hand in the rolls of a corn shredder. He was working on the Frank Carbaugh farm shredding corn and in the manner caught his hand in the rolls of the machine, grinding his hand to the wrist into a pulp. Wedges had to be driven between the rolls and he was nearly half an hour before Mr. Eversole's arm was extricated. All this time he stood the intense pain without uttering a sound. Dr. R. Murray was called and rushed to a Fort Wayne hospital where the hand was amputated at the wrist.

NEW TURBINE READY.

Bluffton, Ind., Nov. 22.—The switchboard panel for the new unit now being installed at the city light plant arrived this morning. All of the equipment necessary for the operation of the new turbine is now here. Word from Decatur is that the 500-kilowatt turbo-generator which was ordered for the municipal light plant there about the middle of the summer has been consigned by the government and that the Decatur plant will be badly crippled all winter. Members of the local administration can congratulate themselves on the action they took to secure the delivery of their machine.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Decatur, Ind., Nov. 22.—Death came suddenly Wednesday noon to Mrs. Elmer Houser, wife of George Houser, residing in an apartment at the hotel court house building on First street. The aged couple lived alone in the apartment and Mrs. Houser on going into the house after spending a few moments outdoors, found his wife sitting at the table in the room with her head on her arms, holding a hatchet in one hand, having attempted to cut some wood. He found her dead, and the coroner, Dr. D. H. Clark, was called, gave autopsy as the cause of the death.

TAKEN TO PENAL FARM.

Warsaw, Ind., Nov. 22.—Jack Dempsey, who was convicted of petit larceny before Judge Houser Saturday, for stealing "dope" from the office of Dr. Hoy, at Syracuse, was taken to the penal farm at Greencastle Wednesday morning by Sheriff Huffer.

INTERESTS JAP FINANCIERS.

Tokio, Nov. 22.—Japan's financiers are showing keen interest in the visit of M. A. Konshin, formerly president of the Bank of Russia and now head of the Commercial and Industrial Bank of Moscow. M. Konshin's visit is ostensibly a pleasure trip, but is considered to have a much more serious purpose, and his party is already referred to as a special finance commission to Japan, negotiated by the Russian government to negotiate the establishment of a Russo-Japanese bank. The capital proposed is reported to be ten million yen.

SHORTAGE OF SUGAR IN COLUMBIA CITY

Three Groceries Are Entirely Out—Much Hoarding is Reported.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Columbia City, Ind., Nov. 22.—With several of the groceries out of sugar and unable to get adequate supplies from jobbers, the situation in Columbia City is rapidly growing worse, and from all appearance will soon result in a sugarless city until the new refined beet and cane sugar is put on the market. January 1, at present at least three groceries in the city have no sugar, while those having the precious sweet are selling it in not more than 25 cent lots. Cases of sugar hoarding are reported in the county and retailers learning of such instances refuse to sell to the hoarders, some of whom have collected enough sugar to last three years, and who will find they have a large surplus on their hands, paid for with a price far above what the new sugar will probably sell for next year.

Columbia City Short Items.
Ben Brenneman returned home Wednesday afternoon from the Hope hospital in Fort Wayne, following an operation six weeks ago for bladder trouble. He is considerably improved, and after a few more trips to the hospital, once a week, expects to be sound and well, following an illness of several years.

The members of the Grandmothers' club met at Warsaw Wednesday, and were entertained by Mrs. W. A. Weick. Nearly 100 members were present Tuesday evening when the work of the Modern Woodmen was given by the team of twenty years ago, to Lawrence Flannery. The officers officiating were: D. V. Whitehead, venerable counselor; J. B. Leininger, worthy adviser; George Harrison, excellent banker; and Edward Richard, escort; Henry Mannen, chief forerider; Rufus and Elmer Nell, Levi Keiser, George Bechtold, H. J. Messner, Frank Metzler, Frank Hollis and John W. Eigner.

Jack Allen was called to Elkhart Tuesday evening by the serious illness of his daughter, Mrs. Edward Rouch. The final Round Robin party was held in Columbia City Wednesday for the benefit of raising funds for the Red Cross chapter and 234 hostesses were to entertain 1,536 guests. The original committee starting the idea, which resulted in over $500 coming to the Red Cross treasury, is composed of Mrs. Hattie Mier, Mrs. D. D. McLaughlin, Mrs. E. L. McLaughlin, Mrs. Jessie Hunter-Faust, Mrs. E. K. Strong and Miss Lizzie Wundtlicher.

Nelson Campbell, of this city, went to Bucyrus, Ohio, Wednesday, in response to a message informing him of the death of his mother, Mrs. Isaac Campbell, who, with her husband, moved from this city six years ago. Mr. Campbell being a Pennsylvania crossing watchman. Death was due to complications. The husband and son, who were well known in Columbia City and in all probability the remains will be brought here for burial.

John Doherty was given the rank of pace in the Pythian lodge Tuesday evening. Next Tuesday evening the rank of ensign will be conferred upon the candidates who, with two others, will receive the rank of knight at the district meeting at Fort Wayne, November 28.

John T. Clapham has received a card from First Lieutenant Luther H. Mertz of Battery D, of Fort Wayne, who is serving with the 101st division in France. The card follows: "Hello, John! On my way to get the kaiser and his helmet (Lieut. Mertz promised he would send a helmet to Mr. Clapham). Been at sea seven days. Having a very nice trip and our navy sure has good gunners. L. H. Mertz." From one portion of the letter it might be inferred that the gunners on the ship carrying Battery D across had a tilt with a submarine.

Mrs. W. C. Bolton, of Warsaw, was tendered a miscellaneous sherry Tuesday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alf Heacock, of this city, members of her former crowd of girl friends being present. ## AT THE PALACE

"THE FASHION SHOP."

Corr and Latell and Alphonse Berg, supported by a bewitching bevy of Broadway beauties, the Parisian fashion act, "The Fashion Shop," will be presented opening Thursday afternoon for the remainder of the week at the New Palace. This dashing little circle offering in which modiste creates a half score of gowns on living models without sewing or pinning but merely by deftly tucking in the corners, edges and ends of bolts of cloth is a novelty supreme. Hiram Cornerbi, the eccentric hick with the eye for feminine beauty, contributes no little to the entertainment. The feast of girls, song, lingerie and dance.

Hugh McCormick and Grace Wallace's "Theatrical Agency," a ventriloquist and dancing novelty, is a progressive type of act in which versatility is the watchword. Mr. McCormick is an excellent ventriloquist while his fair partner is a rare dancer. Bob Zeno and Eva Mandell, in the up-to-the-minute skit, "At the Beehive," have some smart patter and engaging musical numbers. Three fetching girls in song numbers, The De Luxe trio; including the Lockwood, a dashing blond in odds and ends of vaudeville, and the four Ankers, snappy gymnasts, also are on this super bill.

William B. Morris and Grace Thurston are being starred in "Paradise Valley," the unique rural comedy with music furnishing the feature attraction for the bill closing tonight. Billy Kinball and Betty Kenneth are appearing as a special attraction on this bill in their bawdy specialty.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1917. SPEAKING OF THE MERGER.

Noting the merger of the Fort Wayne Sentinel with the Fort Wayne News, the Indianapolis News comments this wise:

One of the pioneer papers of northern Indiana passes in the merging of the Fort Wayne Sentinel with the News of that city. The Sentinel was founded seventy-five years ago when newspaper publishing was a different business from what it is now. There is a feeling of regret at the passing of newspapers representative of the older regime. They operated under handicaps which later-day papers have not experienced. Perhaps in the days of smaller circulations and smaller cities they came more intimately in touch with the people. The Sentinel will pass out of existence as a newspaper taking, presumably, the name of the News, its purchaser, when the deal is completed. There is regret, therefore, at the passing of an old and respected newspaper and felicitation at the growth of the News which makes possible its acquisition of The Sentinel. Northern Indiana should continue to be well served by an afternoon paper of prestige and influence.

Two misapprehensions may be gained by the uninformed from what the Indianapolis News says. One is that The Sentinel is younger than it actually is and the other that the News, which has taken it over, is not so old as is the fact. The Sentinel was established in 1832. It is now in its eighty-fifth year. Its history is the civil history of Fort Wayne. There should be no notion anywhere that the Fort Wayne News is a coveting juvenile feeling its oats, running down and running over a decrepit rival. While not so hoary as The Sentinel, the News long since entered the period of maturity. It was established more than forty-three years ago and has had uninterrupted publication since that time. When it entered the field here Fort Wayne was an overgrown town about a fifth of its present size. It will be conceded that in a business so precarious as newspaper enterprise, which is marked all along the way with failures and wreckage, that to endure for a period of forty-three years is to attain a good age. The Fort Wayne News has done that.

It may as well be stated here and now what is the truth respecting The Sentinel. It is not a newspaper that has outlived its prosperity or its reputation. It has been a continuously prosperous and growing business concern for more than thirty-five years. It was not sold because it was no longer worth keeping and it was not purchased because it was junk to be had at a bargain. The purchaser paid for it a good stiff price that was commanded by a sound, going, prosperous concern. It was purchased because it makes possible a greater newspaper enterprise than any other in the state outside the capital, for the consolidation will accomplish just that result. That Northern Indiana should not only "continue to be well served by an afternoon newspaper of prestige and influence," but better served than ever it has been was the design, is the expectation and will be the endeavor. For that reason and no other the absorption of The Sentinel by the News has been brought about.

DEFENSE FOR THE ARMY.

There is inspiration in the response made by the people of the United States to the call for funds with which to finance the Y. M. C. A. war work. The goal was thirty-five million dollars. The subscriptions have exceeded fifty millions. The excess is almost 50 per cent.

This generous response is satisfactory beyond words, not merely that it constitutes the material assurance of ample funds with which to carry on the war-work of the association, but because it discloses as perhaps nothing else could how deep in the concern of the people is the welfare of their young soldiers. From no other impulse than that the boys in camp, cantonment and trench shall be as well off as human care can make them could have sprung a purpose at once so enthusiastic and generous. It indicates how thoroughly the people of the nation understand the necessities of the army beyond what the government does to insure that the soldiers shall be well fed, clothed and munitioned.

With the money subscribed for the Y. M. C. A. work no detail of the vast plan for the comfort, contentment and moral well-being of the soldiers need be omitted. Some things not at first contemplated will be possible. What is done can be the better done for the guarantee given that there shall be no want of funds to carry on the work. Where the fifty millions came from there are other millions that can be had when the need is. A prolonged war will make other calls necessary for public support of the Y. M. C. A. and other agencies performing similar work in the conflict and it is not the least of the harbingers of ultimate victory that the people show their readiness and willingness to give freely and cheerfully to activities that though a part of the war are wholly non-military in character.

There had been at no time any want of confidence that the amount of money it was proposed to raise for the Y. M. C. A. war work would be pledged, but there was no anticipation that the big drive over the country would achieve results so vastly in excess of what was expected. While some regions did less than was allotted them to do, others did their part with enthusiasm so fine that there is a surplus of fifteen millions above the sum it was proposed to get. This hearty token of resolute purpose to support the war in whatever ways will be better do that and the pledge given that in fighting their great battle for liberty the American people are going to put forward moral ideals that in peace times were less thought of and not consistently practiced argues the success of the struggle and a permanent establishment of good above and beyond the mere aims of the war itself.

HAIG'S VICTORY BRILLIANT.

The brilliant success of General Haig's latest smash does not win the war, but it shows that the war can be won.

The Germans have been clearly outgeneraled. A superior strategy has prevailed against their boasted superman military policies. They were outgeneraled, not only, but outfought. Attacking without artillery preparation, Haig hurled his forces against the famed Hindenburg line and under the British pressure it cracked and buckled and gave way. Some allowance must be made for the shock of surprise that demoralized the Germans at the outset, but the advantage taken at the start was never lost and the British moved forward in a sturdy, steady fashion that there was no stopping.

It is a great victory and while it is signalized by important gains of ground it is a bigger victory as showing that the Hindenburg line is not storm proof and that German strategy is not unbeatable. There was good fighting in the open and the British excelled in it. There was field for cavalry operations and Haig was prepared for it. It is a truly heartening incident to come just at this juncture when the fate of Italy still swings in the balance and the Russian forces are skedaddling out of the war and the Slav government is moving for peace.

A couple of millions of Americans on that west front will make the clearing of France and Belgium a foregone conclusion and they will be there in good time if the indications are to be trusted.

Meanwhile, it will be interesting to watch the developments on the west front. Haig appears to have uncovered something new, useful and rather decisive.

The smashing success of the Y. M. C. A. drive should be duplicated by an equal success with the Y. W. C. A. fund. The work of the "Y" is essential and it will do society in general a heap of good, not to speak of the value the effort in respect of the welfare of the young soldiers who get a fatuous notion of what makes "life." Give to the Y. W. C. A. fund and insure that the work will go on as it ought to go on.

The Hindenburg line is rapidly becoming one of the imaginary sort of which you get distressing examples in geography and geometry.

And Mr. Kerensky is said now to be coming back. It is quite likely, having lately gone. Mr. Kerensky is usually doing one or the other.

Lord Northcliffe does not want to be boss of the air for Great Britain. Mr. Lord keeps himself tolerably busy being his own air boss.

It is noteworthy that for some weeks one Robert Marion Lafollette has been mostly quiet.

Anyway, the weather man is doing nothing to make the coal shortage worse than it is.

BAITADE OF UNSEASONABLE TASTES.

Although they're nice war-grub to eat,
In these swell food-shops where I go
To get my corn-bread and sea-meat,
I find 'em often chilled with woe.
I like them not, as to and fro,
The waiters glide with hot tureens
Of steaming foods I do not know—
I only crave a plate of greens!

Live lobster is for some a treat,
And rabbit loaf for high and low,
Roast wild duck's reckoned hard to beat—
But yet, with me, 'twas never so—
Stuffed egg-plant fritters? No, oh no!
Dear waiter, 'tis not in your means
To please me here today—for, oh!
I only crave a plate of greens!

Cold weather has me by the feet,
Outside I watch the drifting snow,
My nose is red as any beet,
Withal my appetite is slow,
And I find nothing here, although
The menu's seasonable, and beans
With pork create a healthy glow—
I only crave a plate of greens!

BABIES DIE AS MILK GOES UP

By RICHARD A. BOLT,
M. D., Gr. P. H., Member Board of Directors, American Association for the study and Prevention of Infant
Mortality; Chief Bureau of Child
Hygiene, Cleveland, Ohio.

What is causing the recent appalling increase in the death rate of babies in this country?

Since August 1 deaths of babies under 2 years of age, in practically all our large cities, have increased from 10 to 55 per cent over the number of deaths for 1915 or past normal years. This condition coming, as it did, close on the heels of a country-wide increase in the price of milk led the National Commission on Milk Standards to undertake an intensive investigation of the unusual situation, with the result that:

The preliminary report of the secretary of the commission, Dr. J. S. Neff, of Philadelphia, strongly indicates that the high cost of milk is the main factor in the mounting death rate of American babies.

Already the commission, which includes eight public health officers, seven bacteriologists, three chemists, and two United States agricultural experts, has found, in many cities, that because of the increase in price—

Milk has been entirely discontinued among many poor families.

That baby foods, evaporated or condensed milk, macaroni, bread, tea, and even coffee are being substituted.

That in other families, especially in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, cheaper milk of poor quality is being purchased for infant feeding, with the result that there is increased mortality from diarrhoeal diseases.

That with the continuance of this custom, a mortality from malnutrition more marked even than the mortality from diarrhoeal diseases will be noted.

The all reports to the contrary, there is no general decrease of the milk supply in the United States.

In fact, the commission has found that in many localities the handling of the unusual surplus of milk is embarrassing. This is particularly true in Illinois, New York, Pennsylvania and Washington.

This surplus, or much of it, is due to decreased consumption, there being from a 5 to a 40 per cent decrease in many large cities, varying in accord with local conditions.

The greatest decrease in the use of milk has been noted in tenement house and industrial sections—a decrease which was found to be most marked immediately after the increase in price went into effect.

For example, one dealer in Chicago, whose records were investigated by the commission, sold 4,000 quarts of milk a day in September. On October 1 the price of milk was raised and on October 3 his books showed he had sold but 2,500 quarts that day—a decrease of 40 per cent.

While a number of large dealers elsewhere were reporting similar results, merchants noted an increased demand for substitute foods for babies. These substitutes in many instances, to say nothing of the disastrous effect of a sudden change in feeding, are held responsible by many experts in infant hygiene for the digestive disturbances listed as the cause of the increased deaths of babies this fall.

The commission points out that deaths from digestive disturbances among babies under one year of age, with the exception of a few cities—New Haven, Newark, Baltimore and New York—show an increase over 1916; and that about the same ratio of increase is shown for July.

But a much greater increase is shown for each succeeding month—months in which the price of milk was soaring.

In New York city, for example, the infant rate decreased 12 per cent for the first six months of this year, but since July 1 this rate has increased 20 per cent. As the summer was exceptionally cool, special significance is attached to the price of milk which in that city, in July, was raised from 11 to 14 cents per quart; in August to 12½ cents and then to 14 cents.

In Washington, the death rate from digestive disturbances in babies under two years of age had actually shown a decrease of 55 per cent over former years.

In Cleveland there was a slight decrease until the first of August—when, coincident with the increase in the cost of milk, deaths from digestive disturbances in infants under one year shot up more than 80 per cent over August, 1916.

At that time public health nurses reported that many mothers in their districts had stopped giving infants the standard grades of milk they needed, and were substituting cheaper grades of milk or condensed milk and patent foods. Since then many mothers, learning of the danger of this practice, are making sacrifices to pay the price for better grades of milk, and a decrease in mortality in this city already is noted.

As continued decreased consumption and increasing cost of milk will eventually, without special control, interfere with proper infant feeding in this country, thereby increasing infant mortality and morbidity, and as the conservation of child life is as important as the casualty rate of the war and will constitute our greatest asset for the future, the commission will recommend that the federal food administrator be urged to have maintained an adequate supply of cow's milk of proper quality and at a reasonable price for maternity and infant feeding.

For this purpose, Dr. Neff points out that there should be governmental or other aid as has already been provided in the other countries involved in the war.

A further suggestion from the commission is that such child welfare work should be conducted under national or at least central control by such an organization as the Children's Bureau of the United States department of Labor, the National Red Cross, or the Council of National Defense.

NINE OUT OF TEN OF WOUNDED IN THIS WAR HAVE MADE RECOVERY

Although surgery and medical science have scored their greatest triumphs in the treatment of the wounded in the present war, the conditions which have had to be met are the worst in all the history of warfare.

If it had not been for the discovery of bacteria and the method of fighting them by anti-toxins, the vast majority of the wounded in the present war would have died horrible deaths. Instead, over 90 per cent have recovered and over 40 per cent return to the fighting lines.

There have also been wonderful improvements in the mechanical instruments of surgery. The improved splints for broken limbs are wonders of simplicity. With these splints wounded men can be transported in auto, train and hospital ship without pain or injury, where formerly the moving of the wounded was a hell of agony.

In the treatment of wounds the invention of the Carrel-Dakin system of irrigating and cleaning deep wounds has attracted wide attention and has saved many lives. It is cumbersome process, however, and requires the dressing of the wounds every two hours. The surgeons are actively seeking simpler methods.

The next great step to be taken in the armies will be the vaccination of all the troops with the anti-gangrene serum—which will prevent gangrene from ever setting in. The vaccination for typhoid and smallpox, and the careful sanitation of camp sites, food and water have already cut down the deaths from sickness to below the normal rate—whereas in the past the civil war the deaths by disease vastly exceeded the deaths in battle or in the wounded hospitals.

While trench warfare has evolved new and difficult kinds of wounds, it has had its great compensation for the wounded and for the surgeons. Stationary warfare enables the wounded to be picked up as soon as hurt, and to be placed in expert hands and in fully equipped hospitals from the moment of injury. The hospitals, and the ambulances are always at hand and work like clockwork.

In the war of movement all is different. There the hospitals are left far to the rear and the medical corps must trail the armies as best it can as they sweep across country. The wounded must often lie for hours where they fall, before the ambulances reach them.

BREAD LICENSING.

(Indianapolis News.)

The bread licensing system, to become effective Dec. 10, should help appreciably to reduce bread prices. No fancy breads will be baked; retailers will be asked to cut down deliveries by buying from one baker instead of three or four; in baking only three pounds of sugar will be allowed to the barrel, instead of six, and only two pounds of vegetable oil shortening, instead of the customary six pounds of lard. Weights will be standardized. Only one, one and a half, two and four-pound loaves will be sold. Wholesalers will be urged to sell at retail and grocers will be urged to reduce prices to those who pay cash and carry home their bread.

These things should lower the cost of bread making and distribution, and the public should receive the benefit. The regulations suggest how far it may be necessary to go before the end. Consumers may not like the bread with a much smaller amount of sugar and shortening in it than customary, but they will have to eat it in order to make certain that bread and other staples sufficient for needs are to be had in the future. The public will welcome the regulations, establishing standard sized loaves. In the past the size has varied so much that nobody knew how much he was paying for bread unless he weighed it when bought. A 10-cent loaf meant so much bread today and it might mean less, or not so frequently, more tomorrow. Bread hereafter will be sold by the pound, which is the most sensible and convenient method.

UNCLE HARRY TELLS HOW THE WAR REACHES BACK INTO ANCIENT HISTORY

"What has been the most wonderful thing in the history of the world?" asked Jimmy, who had just finished his history lesson as Uncle Harry came into the room.

"Suppose I answer you this way," said Uncle Harry: "If I had been given the choice of living 150 or even 200 years, in any period of the world's history, or fifty years right now, I'd take the fifty years right now. Don't misunderstand me, Jimmy, and fellow members," and Uncle Harry bowed to Helen and Joe. "I have always been interested in history and have read and studied quite a lot."

know there have been many wonderful periods since the beginning of time, and this old world has had many marvelous experiences, and there have been many great achievements, but they're all past. Today history is in the making. What is happening in all parts of the world today, the news that is being printed in the papers will keep the historians busy for a century or more. And here we are, living right in the very midst of all these strange and wonderful happenings."

"I wonder if you saw something in the paper that I saw the other day?" asked Uncle Harry. "Something that connected one of the most ancient parts of the world with one of the most wonderful inventions of modern times."

"What was it, Uncle Harry? Tell us," said Helen, eagerly.

"It made such an impression on me," said Uncle Harry, "that I cut it out of the paper. I'll read it to you."

And Uncle Harry took a small newspaper clipping from the little box that he always carried in his vest pocket and read:

"The entire Turkish army in Palestine," said Helen.

"You don't mean the old, old country of Palestine that the Bible tells about, do you?" interrupted Jimmy.

"The very same Palestine," answered Uncle Harry. "Now listen. The entire Turkish army in Palestine is retreating toward the north. British airplanes are following up the Turks and bombing them."

"Airplanes dropping bombs on the Turkish army in ancient Palestine!" exclaimed Helen. "It doesn't hardly seem possible."

"No, it doesn't seem so sound right," said Uncle Harry, "but it's true, and it just shows how this war has not only swallowed up everything of today, but has also dipped deep into the past and brought up to the surface of the twentieth century—the front pages of newspapers, the most ancient countries and the oldest races of peoples."

"Did you say it was the British army that was driving the Turks up through Palestine?" asked Joe, who had procured the geography and was looking at the map of Turkey in Asia. "Yes, one of the British armies is fighting in Palestine," said Uncle Harry, "and if you'll look there to the left hand side of the map, you'll see the Mediterranean sea, and that will explain to you how it has been possible for the English and French warships to help the British army by shelling the Turks all along the coast."

"What's that's the very same part of the world where the ancient cities of Jerusalem and Damascus are located, isn't it?"

"The very same," said Uncle Harry. "And if you'll look over to the right hand side of the map, you'll see the country of Mesopotamia, which is an even older country than Palestine or Jerusalem, for it was somewhere in Mesopotamia, along there where you see the famous Euphrates and Tigris rivers, that many people believe the Garden of Eden was located."

"And has there been fighting there, too?" asked Helen.

"The military operations in Mesopotamia have been among the most important of the war," said Uncle Harry. "See the city of Bagdad? Well, that, too, is one of the oldest and most famous cities in the world, and today it is occupied by another of the British armies, and that fact is of the greatest military importance. The Turks held Bagdad early in the war, but they were driven out last March and forced to retreat northward. Bagdad is important because it is the end of the famous Berlin-Bagdad railway line that the German Kaiser has been counting on as his key to the Orient. But the day it passed into the control of the allies the Kaiser's dream faded, and I don't believe he will ever realize his ambition."

"Tell me, Uncle Harry, is that the Bagdad of the Arabian Nights stories?" asked Jimmy.

"Yes, it is the same Bagdad, the same old city, where most of those Arabian Nights' stories took place," answered Uncle Harry.

"As I said a little while ago," he continued, "it's a strange and wonderful fact that the twentieth century, and particularly this year of 1917, The greatest autocracy in the world, Russia, turned completely upside down—the czar banished, and the most advanced form of government in the world established. Airplanes flying over the ancient Egyptian pyramids, telegraph and people expecting every day that airplanes will be flying over the Atlantic ocean."

"We're lucky to be living right now," said Jimmy.

"We certainly are, it's a wonderful age," said Uncle Harry.

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to regret. I will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. ## DROUGHT THREATENS TEXAS WITH DISASTER Loss Already $400,000,000 and 2,000,000 Cattle May Perish.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 22.—Charles McCarthy, special aid to Herbert C. Hoover, who has just returned from investigating the drought-stricken district of Texas, states it has been so severe that all cottonseed cake and forage in the state has been commandeered. He said the losses already had reached $400,000,000 and that unless relief on a huge scale was rushed immediately 2,000,000 cattle would die.

The greatest damage has been done in the western part of Texas, in New Mexico and Colorado, according to Mr. McCarthy, who says that the drought which has lasted seven months, has devastated an area as large as Germany.

"This is one of the greatest calamities that could hit the nation at this time," he said. "More than 100,000 head of cattle have been shipped to Oklahoma and Kansas, but many of those left are so weak they cannot walk. They have been thrown out of the cars and lie dead on the fields in enormous numbers. Most of the sheep in west Texas are dead or dying. In order that the people may be cared for and the land may be seeded, I have asked President Wilson to ask congress to appropriate an emergency fund of $50,000,000. I have also appointed a relief committee of which Governor Hobby is head. Other state officials are members."

FAVORS THE OPEN AIR SCHOOL SYSTEM

Superintendent R. W. Himelick Believes in Additional Out-Door Schools.

Among the many phases of the school system here being investigated by Superintendent R. H. Himelick is Fort Wayne's open air school. Superintendent Himelick stated Thursday that an entirely mistaken idea is held in connection with the open air school of Fort Wayne. Most people seem to have the idea that the school is for children suffering with acute cases of tuberculosis. As a matter of fact there are less cases of tuberculosis in the open air school than in all other schools combined. The open air school is to prevent tuberculosis rather than a cure.

It is the new superintendent's idea to investigate the possibility of installing an open air school in connection with every well attended school in the city. Children who are naturally weak through anemic conditions or other causes are highly benefited by the open air school, and many children found to be backward in the indoor schools will come into his right and be a normal scholar in the open air institutions.

SOCIETY

The So-Char-Rea club, a social organization, has decided to do something as a society in the line of patriotic endeavor as heretofore the club members have worked individually only. Consequently every Friday afternoon the club is to meet and do Red Cross work in the form of knitting comforts for the soldiers. The comforts are to be seven inch squares of wool which will be sewed or crocheted together after they are done for a comforter. Any color of wool will be used, even that raveled from worn sweaters that have been washed thoroughly. There will be some taste displayed in putting the squares together, but the making will be rapid as it does not take long for a good knitter to make a square. On Saturday afternoon of this week the club will meet with Miss Martha Tolan, of Masterson avenue, but following this week, the work meetings will be held on every Friday and nothing is to be allowed to interfere with the work of the club.

Miss Lon Biederwolf, of Monticella, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Biederwolf. Mrs. Jane Branson has gone to Pittsburgh and Philadelphia to remain until after the holidays.

New Use For the "Auld Plaid Shawl"

BY BETTY BROWN.

Women who love color watched with regret the exit of the once popular Scotch "golf cape" and turned for consolation to the rich plaids in silks. And now returns the glowing plaid in heavy woolsens, on that bulwark of conservatism, the street suit. Here is pictured a trotter frock in which dignified velvet of forest green vies with the soft brightness of a tunic, scarcely more than a scarf, which appears from beneath the little fur-edged jacket and cascades down the skirt front, with broad black braid border. The upturned collar again reveals the plaid cloth and one suspects the coat is lined with the same cheerful woolens.

CULTIVATE THE SMILE HABIT IT DOES YOUR FRIENDS "GOOD"

Miss Catherine Galloway, who belongs to a Henry W. Savage Opera company has given this not new but always good advice: "If you want to go through life smoothly, happily and successfully, one thing you should do is to cultivate the smile habit; not that the act of smiling alone will accomplish all these wonders, but it will help—it will help far more than you can imagine if you have never tried the experiment. Of course, I am not suggesting that you go through life with a meaningless smirk, but where there is a constant smile upon the lips there is usually a cheery disposition back of it, and if the sunshine is not in the heart in the first place the smile will eventually bring it. If you will keep the corners of your mouth turned up into a smile you will be amazed to see how quickly the unpleasant thoughts will be sent flying from your mind. Try it yourself, and see how happily it works. I have yet to hear of a failure."

PASSPORT LAW USELESS.

Christiania, Nov. 22.—The newspapers express dissatisfaction with the new Norwegian passport regulation, because Danes and Swedes are exempt from its provisions on the ground of reciprocity. This, it is said, means the foregoing even of the right to inquire whether Swedish and Danish passports are genuine or false, so that anyone who speaks these languages can travel in Norway without hindrance. "Since there are plenty of places where false passports are made," says Tidens Tegn, "this regulation makes the whole law useless."

Easy to Make This Pine Cough Remedy

Thousands of families swear by its prompt results. Inexpensive, and saves about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

Pine cough syrup is a combination of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain granulated sugar syrup, which is better, but why buy it? You can easily make it yourself in five minutes.

To make the best pine cough remedy for money ever buy, put 2 1/2 ounces of pine (40 cents worth) in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. This gives you a full pint—more than you can ever need for $2.50. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that cures hoarseness. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt results.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

REQUIRED TO KEEP CLEAN, THIS IS THE WAY SAMMY TAKES HIS BATH WHEN OUT OF BARRACKS

Sammy, in the top picture, is not preparing for a game of "Rolly-Polly"—as you might guess. He is digging his "bathtub." Next he is shown "enameling" the tub with canvas. He "turns on the water" by uncorking his canteen and addresses himself: "Your bath is ready, sir."

SMITH COLLEGE GIRLS ARE ANGELS OF MERCY

Band of Them Taking Care of War Victims in a Part of France.

French Front, Oct. 18.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—A small band of Smith college girls is mothering the distressed population of those districts of France devastated by the Germans before they were forced to retreat last spring by the victorious French and British troops who had hammered them on the Somme. The correspondent of the Associated Press passed a day with the young women in the war zone where they have arrived to install themselves in the midst of the stricken people. They have made their headquarters in the grounds of the Chateau of Roberecourt. There they live in shacks and portable houses in sight of the blackened ruins of the castle, burned by the Germans. From this center they go to twelve villages which have been taken over for relief by the American college girls. Before the war they had altogether a population of approximately 4,600. Now this has been reduced to about 1,200.

The American "angels of mercy," as the Smith college girls are known, brought with them from America or purchased in Paris large stores of articles of first necessity for the people. Many of the peasants had money which they had been able to conceal from the Germans, and these people were quite willing to pay for articles provided by the American girls.

Others among the peasants were destitute of both goods and money and for these the American girls made charitable provision.

The girls brought motor trucks, and several of them are motor drivers. Once or twice a week each of the villages in their district receives a visit from a party of the girls in their trucks which are loaded with necessities, and these are sold to the peasants at cost price or less, and thus many of the needs of the people are met. Food, linen, clothing, furniture, kitchen utensils and live chickens and rabbits are most desired.

Other branches of assistance to the people take the form of a traveling dispensary, the giving of medical advice by the two women doctors from Smith college who are members of the squad, the foundation of nurseries for the care of the smaller infants while their mothers are working, and the establishment of play rooms for the other children.

The care of the children is one of the most important parts of the girls' work. In the first place, the little ones have to be retrained to play, for during the German occupation they were not allowed to do so and in most cases had forgotten how to amuse themselves in simple games. It is wonderful how soon they learn under the American girls' encouragement and leadership. Then the neglected little ones are taken in hand and taught the value of cleanliness and neatness. For the women much help is provided in the way of sewing classes and instruction in modern hygiene.

It is hoped here that the work of the Smith college girls, forming the first unit, in cheering up and helping these stricken peasants may be an incentive to others to undertake similar labors in the hundreds of villages which have suffered from the German occupation. Everywhere in the Somme and Oise and other French departments now partially freed from the German troops there are similar opportunities.

NEW COLONIES FOR BELGIAN CHILDREN

Those Now Living in the Danger Zone Will Be Provided For.

British Headquarters in France, Oct. 22.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—Several hundred Belgian children who are now living in the danger zone close to the fighting lines in the immediate future will be established in safe and comfortable quarters in a colony of their own. This is being prepared by the American Red Cross at certain places in free Belgium. Sections for ten barracks were shipped from Paris yesterday, and under the supervision of Messrs. Bicknell and Van Schick these will be set up at once, and the little folk moved in.

Here they will be given comforts which they have not known since the Germans overran Belgium, and in addition will be placed under competent teachers, who will pick up the broken threads of their education. Six thousand Belgian children already have been sent to homes in various parts of France, and there are many more who are being sheltered, bombed and gassed almost every day and should be taken away to safer quarters.

The new Red Cross colony is being established to meet the growing demand for refuge on Belgian soil. There are several strong reasons for this demand. One is that the Belgian authorities like to hold together what is left of Belgium as much as possible.

The wonderful hospitality of allied countries is appreciated, but the sentiment is strong for the retention in Belgium of as many people as practicable. Another very vital factor is the fact that mothers are reluctant to let their children go so far away that they cannot visit them. To meet all these demands the Red Cross is establishing the colony in the safest place available in free Belgium, where it will be

Killed Boy by Poisoning Milk

MRS. ELSIE BASS
Battered by milk robbers, Mrs. Elsie Bass, Cleveland, Ohio, placed rat poison in a milk bottle left on her porch by the milkman. Three boys drank the milk, and one, John Perko, 9, died the other two being saved by the prompt administering of emetics by their mothers. Mrs. Bass was arrested and confessed poisoning the milk, saying that she had hoped to make the milk robbers so sick they would never steal her milk again.

L. O. LONG.

the Winter street crossing. The accident occurred when Long stepped in front of one engine directly in the path of another which was backing on the next track. His body was cut squarely in two.

The deceased has been employed by the Pennsylvania since the first of October, but has two brothers who have been in the employ of the road for a number of years. Surviving are his widow and a baby, two and a half months old. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Long, of Ashtabula, Ohio, also are living.

The switch engine which struck Long was in charge of Engineer A. J. Palmer and Conductor C. C. Angel and Conductor William Baltz. The body was removed to the Mungovan & Ryan undertaking parlors.

RED CROSS RUSHES SURGICAL DRESSINGS

All Northern Indiana Chapters to Engage in Work—Teachers Sent Out.

The demand for surgical dressings has become so great that local workers are being sent out by Mrs. F. J. Fauve, of the Northern Indiana warehouse, to start the work in chapters which are not already making the surgical dressings. Only 17 out of the 37 chapters of this division are now making these dressings and an attempt will be made to start each chapter as soon as possible.

Miss Marie Connell, of Decatur, was sent out by the warehouse, and started classes Wednesday at the Anglo chapter. On November 21 Miss Winifred Callahan will start classes at Plymouth. On December 3, Mrs. William Decker, of the warehouse, will start the work at Columbia City. Other teachers will be sent out soon.

A pair of wristlets were donated to the warehouse by Margaret Koons, 3114 Thompson avenue. They had been some confusion due to the announcement that all of the socks sent to the warehouse should be washed first with white soap. This does not refer to other knitted goods.

The home care of the sick classes at the local workshop conducted by Miss Frances Ott will not be resumed until next Monday. Miss Ott is at present confined in the Lutheran hospital and unable to meet with her classes.

HOW SAMMY GOT FIRST TASTE OF SHELL FIRE

Hears a Roar, Whistle of Shrapnel, But Faces It Like a Man.

(Special Letter from Kenneth W. Payne, Pressed by Consul, for Publication in America Only.)

With the British Armies in the field, France—"How did they face it?" was the question put to the commanding officer of the first battalion of American troops to come under shell fire.

"How would Americans face it?" he snapped back wrathfully.

Yet the question was a fair one. Seasoned British officers say they still feel nervous under shell fire.

"Young troops just out, when they get their first taste of it, sometimes feel pretty sick for a while, and show it. It's quite natural." So spoke an English officer who himself has lived under German shell fire so terrible that it was heard clear across the channel.

The fact, then, that these young American engineers endured their first ordeal of high explosives with all the cool nerve of experienced regulars is worthy of mention.

A personal experience will indicate in a very mild way the kind of surprise and strain which successive batches of Sammies are now undergoing.

It is a "quiet day" along the front.

Your attitude is that of an idle spectator, watching some vast, slow-moving natural phenomena. That human lives are involved in the spectacle hardly occurs to you, much less that your own is concerned in the drama. Suddenly, with nerve-shattering unexpectedness, the menacing wall of approaching shell stops the whole party dead in its tracks. Every fiber in your body vibrates harshly in the mental key set by the shell. You feel like a trapped animal. There is a violent jar in the air and earth, a roar, shell fragments whistle about your ears, and the road behind you is wrapped in a heavy pall of black smoke and dust.

Before you are conscious of safety in the air toward you, and still a third way, as they say. "Damn it, they're after us," says the officer in charge of the party. "Scatter out in the field each side of the road! And if the shell is coming very close, throw yourself flat on the ground quick! Take to a shell hole only if there's one near. You only have a second or two!" Every shell seems shrieking at you. The sky seems hard, the atmosphere tense, the fields crudely shelterless, and every howl a mocking omen of what's going to happen to you next. To the tune of the first shell or two you inwardly make a last will and testament. Then you manage to adjust yourself mentally to the situation, and move on again noting where the shells explode and analyzing your own feelings. You do all that mentally. But nervously you are high strung to the breaking point. The nerve strain comes out when the party finally reaches the veritable heaven—a trench. Knees are universally weak. Everybody sits down awkwardly in the mud. Faces are flushed, foreheads perspiring, and you use two or three matches to light one cigarette, which promptly you toss aside after a disinterested puff or two. That is roughly what the first experience has been like to each individual Sammy. The terrific nervous tension is inevitable.

It is under just such nervous tension that these young American engineers, fresh from shop benches and office desks, have been quietly keeping at work day after day here with all coolness of old-time soldiers.

A wonderful showing of trunks and leather goods.

FOR FEDERAL WAGE BONUS

Chiefs of Railway Brotherhoods Said to Like British Plan.

GO TO WHITE HOUSE
TO SEE PRESIDENT
Wilson Has Been Given a Free Hand in Wage Matter by Railroads.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Heads of the four railroad brotherhoods came here today at President Wilson's request to discuss with him their proposed new demands for higher wages. The president was prepared to take up the problem with a free hand, so far as the railroads are concerned, having been formally notified that the roads will abide by any steps he sees fit to take.

An entirely new proposal, which it is understood the brotherhoods plan to make, is that rail transportation during the war with respect to relations of the carriers and employees be dealt with by the formation of a new federal commission to have complete jurisdiction and power over the companies and the railway men.

Want a New Board.
The plan, it is stated, is to have the president appoint such committee with plenary power headed by some prominent official thoroughly conversant with the transportation system.

The proposition of intervention by the existing board of mediation and conciliation, of which Judge William L. Chambers is chairman, is understood to be one of the factors in the proposal for a new commission. The brotherhood heads are said to be unalterably against any plan which would give the present board any power with relation to wage demands. They want a new and distinct commission similar to that now in control for the war of England railroad lines.

Propose Federal Bonuses.
The brotherhood chiefs also are expected to urge their claims for higher wages, suggesting that the increase come either with the carriers themselves or in some form from the government along the line of the British bonus system. From the railroads President Wilson has the letter of Fairfax Harrison, chairman of the American Railway Association's executive committee, committing the roads unreservedly to the principle of arbitration and placing their interests in the president's hands for any disposition the president shall make in the public interest.

Those at the Conference.
The brotherhoods to meet the president are W. G. Lee, of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; Warren G. Stone, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; A. B. Carleton, of the Order of Railway Conductors; and W. S. Carter, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. Any announcement regarding the conference, Mr. Lee said, before going to the white house, must come from the president. Refusing to discuss the possibility of a strike or the brotherhood's attitude, he said: "We are here at the president's request to receive and answer any proposition he may have to make."

RABBIT AND PET STOCK ASSOCIATION FORMED

Meeting Held Wednesday Night in Assembly Room of Court House.

The Rabbit and Pet Stock association was formed in a meeting held Wednesday night in the assembly room of the court house. The first Sunday meeting has been chosen as the regular meeting night but the place of meeting has not yet been decided. A special meeting will be held some time this week to discuss the annual show. It is not thought that the organization will hold a show this winter but if they do it will probably be held in conjunction with the poultry exhibit, which will be held soon.

COUNTY WORK WILL HAVE TO WAIT AWHILE

Little Encouragement is Given in Letter from R. S. Lovett.

All county work will have to wait until the need of freight cars by the government is not so great, declares R. S. Lovett, appointed by the president to administer the priority in transportation, to William G. Tonkel, county highway superintendent. As a result much work in the county is being held up. The letter to Superintendent Tonkel follows: "Replying to your telegram of recent date, I beg to say that the national necessity for preferred commodities is so urgent that cases of individual or local convenience must yield for the time being so far as open top cars are concerned. Possibly box or flat cars may be used.

"The order will be revoked just as soon as the critical stage of the necessity has passed, but in the meantime, it must remain unimpaired by exceptions in particular cases, which from precedent would become so numerous as to break down the rule."

AT SUBMARINE WAR

Kaiser Should Have Defied Wilson in Beginning Says Admiral.

Amsterdam, Nov. 22.—"America's entry into the war was disadvantageous to us in morale and many other ways," said Admiral von Tirpitz, former German minister of marine, in addressing a meeting of the Fatherland party at Dresden. "We ought to have reckoned with the fact that the American trust magnates were bound to desire our defeat.

"I regret that we did not remain firm in the face of President Wilson's threats. If we had done so things probably would have been very different, but now we must take them as they are.

"I would point out, however, that from a military view point America's entry into the war is of little significance to use, because it is the tonnage question that is decisive."

The admiral expressed regrets that Germany had been late in using that "powerful economic weapon," the U-boat, but said that notwithstanding all the counter measures which the delay gave Britain time to develop, the Germans would be successful if they stuck to their guns.

Following closely the breaking of quarantine by William Lehnke, Tuesday, several other cases have been reported to the health offices of violations of this regulation. Affidavits against John and Henry Niebuhr, 1025 Grant street, were filed Thursday. Both men left their home after the quarantine card had been placed and will consequently be held in police court as soon as the quarantine is lifted.

Three more cases were reported to the health office by neighbors of persons breaking quarantine Thursday afternoon and these will be investigated and if found true prompt action will be taken.

"Filing affidavits will become a part of our routine work if people insist on breaking the health law. Prosecution will take a lot of valuable time, but confinement is the greatest preventative possible," stated a health officer when asked about the affair.

Fewer cases of smallpox have been reported within the last few days than for quite a while. There are now close to eighty cases in the city, but unless the increase takes place very suddenly they will be lessened in great number within the next week.

BOYS LOOKING FORWARD TO THANKSGIVING DAY

Several of Them Now Stationed at Camp Taylor Are Coming Home.

Sergeant Major Ernest F. Fruechte, formerly of The Sentinel editorial staff, writes to the same from Thanksgiving camp, Camp Zachary Taylor, Kentucky. "It has been a long time since I have had the opportunity of a few minutes time in writing to those I often think of. But army life and army regulations will not always permit you to do as you choose. However, I have nothing to complain of as we have been treated the best since our arrival here.

"Perhaps you have heard that no newspaper correspondents are permitted to write to their papers back home unless the articles are censored. I have been so very busy during the past few weeks that I have not had the time to write. However, nothing of any great news importance has happened during the time. Submitting everything to the censor requires a great deal of time.

"However, I wish to gladly announce that I will be home on Thanksgiving day. The 17th battalion football team will play Kendallville at League park. The Hundred Per Cent club is backing the proposition. A boost, or rather several boosts will help the boys get back the cash required to bring them back to Fort Wayne.

"We will arrive there on Wednesday evening about 5:30 o'clock over the Wabash railroad and will depart again for Camp Taylor about midnight on Thanksgiving day."

AZORES IN BARRED ZONE

Germany Extends Area of Submarine Warfare to Atlantic Isles.

SAYS ENEMIES ARE HARMING NEUTRALS

Trying to Squeeze Out Tonnage That Prefers to Remain in Port.

Amsterdam, Nov. 22.—A German barred zone, a dispatch from Berlin announces, has been established around the Azores, which have become in economic and military respects important bases of Atlantic navigation. The extension of the German maritime barred zone is announced from Berlin in an official memorandum which says:

"The hostile governments are endeavoring by the intensification of the hunger blockade against neutral countries to force out to sea neutral cargo space which is keeping in port, and to press it into their service. As hostile shipping and shipping sailing in hostile interest are being supplemented by violent measures, the German government in its struggle against Great Britain's domination of violence which tramples under foot all rights, especially those of smaller nations, finds itself obliged to extend the field of operation of its submarines."

It adds that the extension principally consists of the "establishment of a barred zone around the Azores, which has become in economic and military respects important hostile bases of Atlantic navigation and in closing a channel to Greece hitherto left open in the Mediterranean as it should be utilized by the Venizelos government for so much as the supply of the Greek population with foodstuffs as for the transport of arms and ammunition."

The memorandum then details at length and specifically the extended zone around western Europe, the extreme points touched being a point three miles south of the Faeroe islands in the north, 43 north latitude in the south and 30 west longitude in the west.

It is stated also that neutral and Belgian relief ships now within the Azores and Greek barred zone may safely leave by the shorter route before Nov. 23 and they are granted "an adequate period of grace" if they entered the barred areas without foreknowledge of the extension.

The Azores islands are in the North Atlantic, about two-thirds of the way between the United States and Europe, and belong to Portugal.

An Amsterdam dispatch last Monday said that German Vice Admiral Kirchhoff, writing in the Neueste Nachrichten, declared that the United States had "established herself on the Azores and constructed fortifications at Ponta del Gado." He attempted to point out that such possession would threaten important world ship routes and interfere with connections with Germany's colonial possessions.

HAY MAY DROP AT ANY TIME

Government Buyers Withdraw from Field as Demand is Supplied.

BALER'S BUYING PRICE
MISLEADS FARMERS

Dealers State That Local Markets Have Not Yet Received Adequate Supply.

A number of local dealers handling government contracts for hay predict that the bottom will fall out of the local hay market. The price on hay has been boosted beyond the "skies" during the last few weeks by the price that the bidders going through the country have been offering. A representative of a large firm, buying hay for the government, produced a letter from his concern Friday ordering him to stop buying as the demand was nearly filled. This buyer states that with the cancelling of the government orders and the releasing of cars held for government shipments the local hay price will undoubtedly drop. He stated further that the dealers would not receive more orders for baled hay for several months.

It is stated that the present high hay prices have been caused by the farmers' misunderstanding of the prices quoted him by the hay balers who are buying hay for the army cantonments and training camps. The farmer has been assuming that the $20 hay price offered him was net when in reality the price was gross and the cost of baling which the farmer must pay. When it is seen that the farmer must furnish three men to pitch hay to the baler, teams to draw the hay from the baler, board the members of the crew, buy coal or gasoline for the machine and they have the hay to the nearest market the $20 price is really not more than $14 or $15.

This representative stated further that when the check came to the farmer from the government he would wake up to the fact that the returns will not amount to more than a normal market return. The balers are buying no more hay for the present and farmers will have to let go at prices far below the present quotations or be caught with crops on hand that they cannot feed up, according to this dealer.

At the local market the predicted drop is not expected as the price is controlled by the demand and the local markets have not yet received an adequate supply. Fort Wayne markets require at least eighteen loads of hay a day for the local demand and this amount has not been received at the city scales. It is believed by many that the price will remain near the $25 mark until the first of the year.

NEW CENTER WILL STRENGTHEN FRIARS

Fort Wayne Fans Are Hoping Visitors Come Heavily "Loaded."

Announcement in last evening's Sentinel that All-American center will play center with the Friars in Sunday's game against Wabash, caused much rejoicing among Fort Wayne football fans.

While it is to be regretted that Feehey will be unable to play, his important position will be well taken care of by the new man who, beyond doubt, is one of the best centers the game has ever produced.

Fort Wayne fans are hoping that Wabash comes heavily "loaded" and according to advanced "dope" from the City of Hills, they will not be disappointed. The heavier Wabash is "loaded" the better the game. It is said that both Driscoll and Blocker, both with the Hammond Clabbers, will play with the visitors here Sunday.

Tickets for the game are now on sale at Meyer Brothers' drug store at Wayne and Calhoun streets. There has been a big advance sale and those desiring good seats should not put off longer getting them.

EXCITING GRIDIRON CONTEST PROMISED

Purdue May Spring Surprise in Game With Indiana University.

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 22.—The football contest to be played between the teams of Indiana university and Purdue on Saturday, November 24, promises to be the most exciting gridiron contest in the state this year. In anticipation of the largest crowd Bloomington has ever seen at a football game, extra bleachers have been put all around Jordan field, and indications are that every seat will be taken.

In the nineteen years of its history, Jordan field, one of the famous gridirons of the middle west, has seen all styles of football from the line-smashing tactics taught by Gonterman and James Horne to the open play of Sheldon and the versatile attack of Stehm.

State and western conference champions have been fought out on Jordan field. In its fifty or more intercollegiate contests, Indiana has piled up 1,500 odd points to 200 of its opponents. Purdue has given Indiana the worst beating it ever got on Jordan field, 42-7 in 1913. Indiana has given Purdue the worst drubbing a conference team ever received on Jordan field, 36-2 in 1909. The rivalry between the two institutions has always been keen and the two coaches have working night and day not only to teach their squads new plays but to install the spirit of fight which after all is the surest bringer of victory.

BRIEF SPORTS.

Morgantown, W. Va., Nov. 22.—West Virginia university claims distinction for its football team, which is just about to close its season. The fact that Washington and Jefferson was one of the teams to fall before the powerful West Virginia attack, and that it was the only team to whip the Navy was proudly pointed out by athletic directors at the university. West Virginia scored 140 points to thirty registered against it.

Waco, Tex., Nov. 22.—Camp Custer has declined to meet Camp MacArthur on the gridiron Thanksgiving day. "Schedule is full," said a telegram to Captain Newman, athletic director at Camp MacArthur, who suggested a post-season date. Captain Newman believes there is little chance of a game.

Atlanta, Nov. 22.—The proposed game between three-year unbeaten football teams of the Georgia School of Technology and the University of Pittsburgh, on November 27 for the benefit of the Red Cross, has been abandoned. What has come from Pittsburgh that an epidemic of flu in that team, which put the captain and two other players on the hospital list, and the team's remaining hard schedule would prevent it from meeting the Georgia team.

Louisville, Nov. 22.—There will be no fall and winter meeting at the Juarez race course. Announcement to this effect was made here last night by Colonel Matt J. Winn, manager of the Juarez track, who said that recently adopted passport restrictions on travel to and from Mexico had made the holding of a meeting impossible.

Ashland, Wis., Nov. 22.—There will be about 1,000 hunting licenses issued this year, as against over 2,000 last year, when the deer season opens at midnight tonight. The war has taken a great many of the young men and the industrial vocations have hundreds more who will not have time to hunt. Deer hunting continues ten days. The one buck law was repealed last year and a hunter may bag one deer, doe or buck.

THIS 105-POUND WOMAN HAS BOXED TWO WORLD'S CHAMPS

HELEN HILDRETH

There is no reason why women as well as men shouldn't interest themselves in physical culture. They owe it to themselves and they owe it to their families. Now with the nation at war and with Uncle Sam mobilizing every resource, domestic as well as military, she owes it to her country.

Helen Hildreth, champion woman bantamweight boxer, was talking.

"I don't advise all women to take up boxing as exercise," she continued. "Boxing is perhaps too strenuous for most women, it takes years of preparation at milder exercises before one should box, but every woman ought to take the less violent exercises, which include long walks, gym work and the army setting up exercises."

"Fresh air is important, that is why long walks are so beneficial. These exercises take a woman's mind off her household or business cares, and help her both physically and mentally."

When I talked to Miss Hildreth she had just finished boxing four rounds with Jack Atkinson, her manager, and a former amateur boxer.

There was no camouflage about her boxing. It was the real thing and I asked her how she happened to become interested in it.

She had been in poor health, she told me, and began taking gymnasium exercises as a body builder. As her health improved she became interested in gymnasium work of all kinds, including bag punching and then boxed a little with her brother.

Later she took it up regularly and in the last two years has boxed private exhibitions with Benny Leonard, lightweight champion Pete Herman, bantamweight champion Kewpie Ertle, former bantamweight champion, and Johnny Dundee.

"Were you ever hit very hard?" I asked her, knowing that even the most skillful boxers are likely to hit much harder than they intend.

"Yes, but that's part of the game. The excitement and nervous tension you are under when you are boxing makes you forget the pain of a blow almost as soon as you feel it."

Miss Hildreth is touring several army cantonments boxing for the Sammies.

PENNSY HOLDS FIRST BASKET BALL PRACTICE

Fast Quintet to Represent Railroaders Headed by Mike Huffman.

The Pennsylvania shop team, a member of the Industrial league, which opens December 13, held the first practice of the season Wednesday night at the St. Paul's school hall. Enough men for two strong teams were present at this first workout and the management was well satisfied with the showing. The Pennsy team hopes to land the Industrial championship, but expects stiff opposition from the Bowser five.

Mike Huffman, for several years a St. Mary's star, will captain the team, and Doriot and Dailey, of last year's team, will hold their old positions. The other two openings will be filled from the abundance of new material present at last night's practice.

After considerable practice at floor work and basket shooting, the candidates were divided into two squads and a fast game was played, with two ten minute halves. The manager and captain feel assured that the Pennsy team will be a fast and speedy aggregation.

Will Play With the Soldiers Thanksgiving

ERNEST F. FRUECHTE.

Ernest F. Fruechte, formerly of The Sentinel editorial staff, now a soldier in training at Camp Zachary Taylor, Kentucky, will be here Thanksgiving day to play with the soldier team in the football game to be staged at League park against the fast Kendallville Overlands.

IS COLLEGE FOOTBALL PLAYER BETTER THAN PROFESSIONAL?

Tales of baseball players graduating from the sand lots and becoming stars on major league teams are common enough to attract very little attention but when a football star pushes his way above the level of mediocrity without the assistance of highly efficient coaches, trainers and other essentials to a college football team its novelty is striking.

A few days ago a football game was played between the professional teams of Massillon and Akron, O., members of the Ohio Professional Football league.

On the Massillon team appeared the famous Charley Brickley, one of the greatest backs ever produced at Harvard and probably the greatest punter and drop kicker of the decade.

Opposed to him, as the kicker for the Akron team, was Frank Nesser, one of the famous Nesser brothers of Columbus, whose education was obtained in the machine shops of the Pennsylvania railroad at Columbus and whose football career was confined mainly to games with the Columbus Panhandles, an uncoached team which usually went on the field without a practice session.

During the time Brickley opposed Nesser, the sand lotter outplayed the great eastern star and won the game from Akron by a drop kick from the 43-yard line, the only score of the game.

This is not written to prove professional football players are better than the well coached college stars. It is merely a statement of what two men did.

BOXING ALL WINTER.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 22.—Adj. Gen. Hubert J. Turney, of Camp Sheridan, Montgomery, Ala., has completed arrangements with Matt J. Hinkel, local referee and promoter, for a series of high class boxing matches at Camp Sheridan this winter. Hinkel has agreed to furnish 8,000 seats for the arena at Camp Sheridan and stage several boxing matches. The first will be held during the first part of December, probably a ten round go between Patsy Cline and Joe Mandot, now boxing instructor at Camp Sheridan.

WANTED FAMILY TO BE HOME SUNDAY EVENING

George Counsellor Raises Row on Finding Home Deserted on Sabbath.

George Counsellor is a hard working man and wants his family to realize it by staying at home with him on Sunday nights. The family had other plans, however, and when a darkened home greeted him Counsellor grew indignant to the extent of a "cuss" word or two. His spouse promptly had him arrested on a disorderly conduct charge, but Judge Kerr let him off with a warning.

Police Notes.

Earl Huntington, a "souse" with a cut up face, had his case continued. Jack Franklin, arrested for loitering, was ordered on his way, and Ralph Taylor, arrested for theft, was ordered bound to the circuit court. J. Coverdale was ordered held as a witness on a $25 bond.

Jacob Schmitt, a Cleveland product, was arrested Wednesday evening for his pro-German utterances. After his arrest Schmitt admitted that he had said "the kaiser is a better man than I'll ever be." However, one glance at the arrested man will bear out the statement, and unless more can be proven against him he will be released. His case was continued by Judge Kerr Thursday morning.

WAR TIME CLAUSE IN BASEBALL CONTRACTS

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 22.—Next year's contracts of the Philadelphia National league baseball club probably will contain a clause for revision or cancellation should the war interfere with the playing out of the season or cause a lack of attendance, according to W. H. Baker, president of the club.

Although Mr. Baker said he does not believe the war will affect base ball as much as is predicted, he declared "all precautions should be taken to protect the club owners."

The subject, Mr. Baker said, would be discussed by the owners at their annual meeting next month. He added that he believed the form of contract adopted by the National league will contain a clause similar to that proposed by the Phillies and that all clubs will subscribe to it.

U. S. USES FASTEST SHIPS IT CAN GET TO SEND TROOPS TO FRANCE, AND CHEAT U-BOATS

The chart shows the convergence of shipping routes at an allied port, and the comparatively small arc the submarines must traverse to intercept all incoming boats.

(Special Dispatch From our Washington Bureau.)
Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—The United States army and navy are co-operating by using the fastest ships they can get for transporting our troops to France and England.
This comes to me from the highest navy department authorities in reply to my direct query regarding a recent editorial in a paper hostile to our present war management. The editorial said it voiced an appeal from the navy on behalf of the army that no more troops be started for France on slow ships. It ponderously went on to state, what everyone knows, that submarine losses among ships making 20 knots or more were negligible, but the slower the ship, the more dangerous the trip. It also said Canada had transported a half million men to Europe without a mishap and suggested we get some of the ships Canada used.
My informants pointed out the following facts:
The government is using the fastest ships it can lay its hands on. Knocking on wood, we also have transported considerable numbers of men to Europe without losing a man. The army and navy have some of their ablest officers doing nothing but study and arrange the trips of our transports, taking every human precaution for their safety.
Many of the ships used by Canada for transports early in the war were loaned by Great Britain and are now being used for other vital purposes by the allies, owing to the sinking of ships by the Germans.

Another factor which made the Canadian transport problem easier than ours was the shorter sea lane. Canadian troops left from points far up north and headed across to Irish and English ports. Ours leave from American ports and go mainly to France, a route about one-third longer than the ones the Canadians used.
Still another element makes the transport problem more hazardous now. In the early days of the U-boat campaign, the subs were not as capable of making their murderous trips hundreds of miles from shore. Now the arc of their activities and their numbers have been greatly increased.
A simple chart will show how the problem has been made easy for the U-boat and hard for the ship captains. There are a limited number of allied ports capable of admitting great ships. To these swarm ships from all the seven seas laden with men, food and munitions.
The arc over which the subs have to travel to be in the direct path of these vessels, converging from all directions, is comparatively small. It gives the Germans many chances to land a torpedo on at least one of the various kinds of ships and, of course, the slower boats "get theirs" first.

HAS RUSSIA GIVEN HELP?

Question Asked if She Has Been of Any Use to Her Allies in War.

SUMMARY OF HER PART IN THE WAR

Unbiased Men, Not Cranks, Consider Role Slavs Have Played.

Special Dispatch From Our Washington Bureau.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 22.—Now that the prospect of a separate peace between Germany and the chaotic fragments of government remaining in Russia is becoming imminent, fresh analysis is being made here of Russia's contribution to the allies' warfare.

The question is being seriously asked whether, after all, Russia has ever been at war with Germany. There are men, not cranks, who seriously believe that, when the balance is struck between the benefits that Germany has derived and the damage she has suffered from Russian participation in the war, there will not be much difference—perhaps a net gain to Germany.

In the first place, Russia was never wholeheartedly at war with Germany except in the brief period when the Lvoff-Milukoff government was in office.

Under the autocracy there was no will to conquer in the government, while the army and the whole government machinery back of the army was honey-combed with pro-German treason.

Under Kerensky there was instability of purpose.

The Lenin-Trotsky episode, or government, or whatever it is, constitutes a part of the German machinery, just as the Italian official socialist party and the Germanized "Socialist" party of Hilquit and Berger are aiding Germany in her world-wide propaganda.

Lenin—and that isn't his name—was sent to Russia by Germany. His activities were financed with German coin, and one of his speeches on peace was proved to be an almost literal paraphrase of a wireless message from Prince Leopold and General Hindenburg.

Trotsky—whose real name is Braunstein—in his very brief career in America was connected with the German propaganda, the revelations in the Von Igel papers showing that the paper, now in New York, was under the influence of the German spy and propaganda systems.

At the beginning of the war the Russian invasion of East Prussia led up to the battle of Tannenberg—a complete Russian debacle and a great stimulant to German morale. That treason led to the trapping of the Russian army has long been asserted in military circles.

The fiction that the Russian advance had any effect on the west front campaign and the battle of the Marne has long been disposed of. The obliging Russian generals who led their troops into the Hindenburg trap did not cause the diversion of any great numbers of troops from the west.

Later on, in the second East Prussian campaign they repeated the same maneuver with the same results. The mysterious disappearance of the Russian General Sievers—Baltic-German in blood—and the rumors of his suicide were followed by charges that the Russian generals were receiving five rubles a head for the Russian prisoners taken by Germany.

These prisoners were invaluable in keeping up Germany's labor supply and allowing her to use all her man power.

Red Cross officials have asserted that over 500,000 Russians came into the German lines and voluntarily surrendered, after the Germans had advertised among them that they would pay a handsome sum for their rifles, which constituted the most valuable personal property most of the mulk soldiers had ever been in possession of.

The Russian offensive against Austria did not meet in the slightest, but they did lead directly to the realization of the most important item in Germany's scheme for world empire, through the creation of the middle Europe and Berlin-to-Bagdad unity.

If Austria had not been almost to the point of collapse, as the result of the Russian invasion, she would never have yielded up her sovereignty to Germany. After the destruction of her armies Austria had to pay any price for German aid, and as a result Germany took practical possession of the Hapsburg empire, took the gold out of the Austrian bank, put her commanders over practically all the armies, mixed German troops in all Austrian units and laid her hands on all the strategic places in the Hapsburg administrative machine.

Then, when the absorption of Austria had been completed, Germany turned on Russia, and with hardly any trouble, drove the Russians out of Austria, took Warsaw, and conquered Poland and part of the Baltic provinces.

She came to Austria's aid only after her ally had been reduced to vassalage, by the obliging Russian commanders who had concentrated on Austria and laid off Germany.

When she turned on the Russian armies in Austria and started the Dunajec campaign of 1915, her allies inside the Russian army and government had prepared the way for her.

Through treason in high places the Russian army was without ammunition—what shells had been reached the front did not fit the Russian guns, but did fit the German guns when they were captured.

While Russian wheat was going to Germany every day the Russian people in the cities were being starved by "higher-up" traitors figuring in peace negotiations.

This calculation missed fire because of the revolution and the short-lived ascendancy of the pro-ally Lvoff-Milukoff government.

But Germany was ready for that emergency. She had already created her machinery for promoting anarchy and "peace at any price" sentiment in Russia. She had reinforced it with an army of agitators from Switzerland, Germany and New York, and was given the earnest co-operation of the "Socialist" party in Germany.

This is only a summary of the high spots of the co-ordination of Russia and Germany.

In scores of minor instances Russia has been the active aid or the unconscious cat's paw of Germany.

Her activities in Turkey and the Balkans, the czar's attitude in Greece, and the Russian-Italian friction have all played into the hands of the Potsdam clique.

INDIANA GROCERS PLAN TO CHECK SPECULATION

Indianapolis, Nov. 22.—With prevention of food speculation in Indiana as its principal object, a meeting of retailers from every county in the state will be held in Indianapolis soon, it was announced yesterday at a meeting of the Indiana Wholesale Grocers' association here. At this meeting also an effort will be made to fix a definite method for promulgating retail prices as fixed by the national food administration. Yesterday B. F. Persons, of Evansville, who has been in Washington recently conferring with Food Administrator Hoover, told of the government's food administration plans. A resolution was adopted at the meeting giving the association's endorsement to the national and state food administrations. The resolution was drawn by a committee composed of W. H. Viehe and K. P. Persons, of Evansville; William H. Swintz, of South Bend; A. H. Perfect, of Fort Wayne, and W. O. Moore, of Indianapolis.

Miss Cecelia P. Bass, age twenty-one, and just admitted to practice before the bar in Pennsylvania, is said to be the youngest woman lawyer in the world.

One-fourth of the United States, or 550,000,000 acres, are covered by forests. More than 22,000,000,000 cubic feet of wood is cut yearly, valued at $1,375,000,000.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 22.—In the office of private detectives last night Joseph Rottmayer, age 50, a stove worker, who was accused of saying he would bury his money before he would buy a liberty bond, signed this apology to the United States and took it to Postmaster J. J. Nolan: "I apologize to the United States government for remarks made by me which, if taken seriously, might result in charges of disloyalty against me. I agree to fly from my home the American flag. I also agree to purchase a liberty loan bond of the next issue."

Returns of Bengal's jute crop for 1917 show a decrease of about 3 per cent. in the area sown, compared with last year's final figures. Dacca, Faridpur, Patna and Jessore report marked decreases, the declines being attributed to scarcity of seed and expectation of a fall in prices.

HERE IS PICTURE OF ONE BABY THAT WAS VICTIM OF GERMAN AERIAL RAID

More proof if anybody thinks more is needed—of Germany's campaign to win the war by filling babies. German aviators who bombarded the hospital of Rosendaal wounded this baby. The mother is sitting on the ruins of her home.

AMERICAN MONEY IS SAVING THE SERBIANS

Serbia Has Suffered More Than Any Other Land in the War.

Corfu, Island of Corfu, Oct. 16.—(Staff Correspondence of the Associated Press).—"The funds advanced to Serbia by the United States government are saving the lives of the Serbian people," said the Serbian minister of public works, Dr. Montchilo Nintchitch, who has been charged with the expenditure of the advances from the American government. Dr. Nintchitch had been telling of the various uses the American money was put to, for 135,000 Serbian prisoners in Germany and for interned civilians, refugees, and pensioners. But now he turned to a story of the cruelty and butchery which the Bulgars are still prosecuting against the Serbs. "Serbia has suffered more than any other country," said Dr. Nintchitch, "for not even the ruin of Belgium and the devastated regions of France can compare with what Serbia has suffered. The people of Belgium and France had seaports to go to and escape in ships, and they had railways. But the Serbian people had no ports for escape, and when the Monastir railway line was cut by the Bulgars they had no railway. So they were literally caught in a trap with no means of escape, and even for those who made the exodus across the mountains, the whole peasant population has come under the control of the Bulgar invaders. Moreover, Belgium and France have been under the eyes of England and America, while Serbia is cut off from the world, with no knowledge of what goes on there, and no mail from there for two years.

"The Serbian peasants have been stripped of everything. All their horses, cattle and live stock has been taken, and their farm machinery has been destroyed. Men, women and children have been killed in the most revolting manner, and on the most bloody pretext. In this the Bulgars go far beyond the Austrians, for the Austrians have a trial and a formal condemnation to death. But the Bulgars have no trial or condemnation. The order to kill is given and the soldiers are practically free to take life on their own judgment without any order.

"As documentary evidence of this killing, the Serbian ministry of foreign affairs have had photographs, copies of which were given to the correspondent showing six Serb peasants strung up side by side from rough stakes driven in the ground, with a cross-piece above for the noose, while as she was too old and feeble to make the journey. All trace of her had been lost, but when she was finally located, General Terzitch applied through the relief authorities for her transfer. But to this application the reply has now come back from the Bulgar authorities that Mme. Terzitch cannot leave the country as she had become a Bulgar citizen.

"The drafting of Serb peasants as soldiers in the Bulgar ranks is one of the worst forms of cruelty being practiced. This is systematically carried out, with notices posted in all public places telling all men over 17 years of age to report for military duty. This placing of a whole population in the military service of the enemy is an unheard of cruelty, and contrary to every rule of international dealing in time of war. But it is justified by the Bulgar on the theory that Serbia does not exist and that the Serbs are Bulgars.

"A member of the Serbian chamber of deputies was here yesterday, and gave me a harrowing report of his family still in Serbia. One of the boys had already been killed. The second boy had been ordered to become a Bulgar soldier. The mother protested, whereupon she was sent to Nish and put in prison, where she went crazy. Meantime the boy ordered to become a Bulgar soldier had escaped to the mountains and a price has been placed on his head. This experience in the family of the Serbian deputy is merely typical of the thousands we are hearing of from all quarters daily.

"We have received full details of the revolt which the Serbian peasants remaining in the country directed against this Bulgar oppression," the minister continued. "This has come in a letter from a well known teacher. The revolt was really a revolt of women—of the Serbian mothers, wives and sisters in a frantic protest against having their sons, husbands and brothers forced into the Bulgar ranks to fire on Serbian soldiers. This women's movement began in Nish, ending that a German division at Nish was sent to quell it. When this failed, two Bulgar divisions were sent against the increasing ranks of the revolt.

"This gave the Bulgars the opportunity to perpetrate a new infamy. Sending their troops against the women, they took as prisoners a large number of the wives, mothers and sisters who had protested against their men being taken as Bulgar divisions, and in this battle order with the Serbian women in front as a screen for the Bulgar troops, these divisions pushed against the main body of the revolting peasants. It was only by such methods of using the women as screens, and by resort to the most extreme cruelty that the revolt was finally put down. In one case, the writer of the letter gives details of seeing a Serbian peasant hung up by the tongue.

The minister spoke of the increasing needs of these Serbian peasants during the coming cold months. Those Serbs who have escaped, and who are here at Corfu and at various Balkan points, can send little or no relief, for they lost everything and have nothing to give.

"It is for this reason," said the minister, "that the funds advanced by the United States government are truly providential, and are saving Serbian lives, thousands of them."

The advance made by the United States was 15,000,000 francs, or $3,000,000. This was designed to cover a period of three months; and at this rate the advance for a year would be $12,000,000, or 40,000,000 francs. The distribution of these funds is under the direction of Dr. Nintchitch, with the American charge d'affaires, H. Percival Dodge, in frequent consultation with him, and exercising American supervision.

In making the expenditures, the first $3,000,000 has been divided in three parts of $1,000,000 each. The first million is being employed for the Serbian soldiers held as prisoners in Germany, Austria and Bulgaria, and for the civilian Serbs interned in these countries. Together, these Serb prisoners and interned aggregated about 200,000. These people get a bare existence in the prison camps where they are held and anything beyond this bare existence comes from the American funds.

The second $1,000,000 is used for medicines and relief to the wounded

Serbian soldiers no longer able to earn a living, and for the relief of the Serbian peasantry remaining in Serbia.

The third 1,000,000 will be used mainly for reconstruction work in Serbia, in replacing bridges, roads, etc., which have been destroyed, so that Serbia, once restored to its people, may be brought back, in part at least, to its former condition.

TRAIN YOUR HAIR AS AN ACTRESS DOES

No class of people devotes as much time to beauty as do actresses, and no class must be more careful to retain and develop their charms. Inquiry develops the information that in hair care they find it dangerous to shampoo with any makeshift hair cleanser. The majority say that to have the best hair wash and scalp stimulator at a cost of about three cents, one need only get a package of canthrox from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cupful of hot water and your shampoo liquid is ready. This makes enough shampoo liquid to apply to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. After its use the hair dries rapidly, with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are quickly dissolved and entirely disappear when you rinse the hair. After this your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

The Doctor's Advice

by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Elder, College-Elwood streets, Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious names will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

should, am weak, despondent and unable to perform the duties which were assumed earlier in life, while my ambition for work and pleasure is slowly going.

Answer: I think a powerful, harmless tonic and nerve medicine will rejuvenate and restore the functions of digestion, assimilation and elimination by invigorating the nervous system. Obtain three-grain cadomene tablets, packed in sealed tubes, and take as per directions accompanying.

"Morris" asks: "I have suffered with a chronic cough for almost a year, and catch a fresh cold every few weeks. Nothing the doctor gives me helps, so I write to you."

Answer: You need a thorough laxative cough syrup, one that not only relieves but surely drives it from the system. The following regular use will out any curable cough or cold promptly: Obtain a 2 1/2 oz. bottle of cadomene, mix it with a home-made sugar syrup or honey as per directions on bottle.

J. W. W. asks: "Can you prescribe a reliable treatment to get rid of dandruff, itching and feverish scalp?"

Answer: I know you can get instant relief and permanent results by using plain yellow mineral as per directions which accompany each 4-oz. jar.

Henry J. C. writes: "Something seems to be wrong with my system and I don't know what it is. I have huge puffs under my eyes, my eyes are bloodshot in the morning and my feet and ankles are swollen. Sometimes I have chills and feel weak and tired most of the time."

Answer: Your eliminating organs such as liver and kidneys are in need of treatment. Begin taking balmywort tablets at once. Get them in sealed tubes with full directions, of any well stocked druggist.

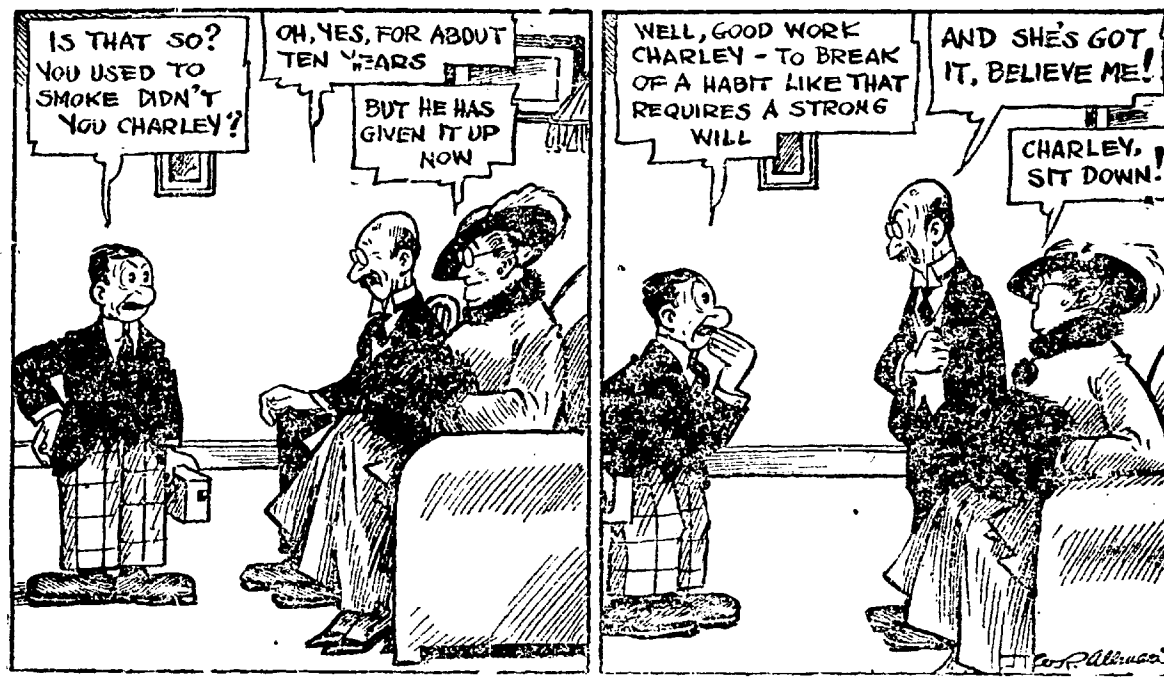

NOTE: For many years Dr. Baker has been giving free advice and prescriptions to millions of people through the press columns, and doubtless has helped in relieving illness and distress more than any single individual in the world's history. Thousands have written him expressions of gratitude and confidence.

He had died suddenly from heart disease. Mr. Lepley was 75 years old and was survived by several children. He was a veteran of the civil war and a member of the G. A. R.

HAIG VICTORY

LIKE OLD WAR

the ground instead of wide, deep ditches.

The trail of the Tanks.
The tanks, of course, went through no-man's land under the full observation of the German artillery and while the gunfire was weak, some fire was directed on the tanks as they advanced. It was interesting to follow the trail of the tanks and to see where shells had struck all about, apparently without doing any damage, for in this whole section the correspondent did not see one tank which had been knocked out.

The condition of the German trenches showed plainly that the occupants had abandoned them in a hurry. All sorts of equipment and personal belongings strewn the ground.
Since the beginning of the attack the gun fire had been extremely weak. No-man's land showed comparatively few shell craters today and this morning the British guns were doing nothing virtually along most of the front involved. This is a striking contrast to the Flanders region, which has been an inferno of artillery fire for weeks.

The German attack yesterday was a counter attack and this was dealt with promptly.

Captured the Big Guns.
Germans who at the first attack yesterday were fighting desperately to day to retain a hold on their rear positions. A particularly hard hand-to-hand engagement occurred this morning at Esquermes when the infantry, accompanied by tanks, stormed this place and drove the Germans from it. The fighting about Esquermes began last night, but it was not until about 8 o'clock today that the British made an organized assault on the town. The tanks went ahead and were engaged immediately by seven heavy German guns which began to fire at them point blank at short range. It was a critical moment for while the tanks will withstand heavy fire they cannot be expected to stand up long under big shells hurled from guns only a short distance away.

The British infantry, which swarmed through behind the tanks, saw the predicament of their iron friends and deliberately charged the enemy artillery with rifles and hand grenades. All the guns were captured and their crews were killed.

Guns Stormed: Crews Wiped Out.
A similar incident occurred at Premy Chappelle, northwest of Marcoing, where three guns were stormed and their crews annihilated. Some of the most spectacular work of this nature fell to the cavalry. The mounted troops got into Marcoing and the German lines last night and in the latter town engaged in sanguinary battle with German infantry. An enemy battery there was giving trouble and a squad of horsemen charged the position, shooting or sabering the entire gun crew. Another battery at Rumilly was taken in similar fashion.

Graincourt was stormed by the cavalry, tanks and infantry working together. British forces, at the latest reports, have carried their line in this section northward to the Bapaume-Cambrai road.

The Germans ran from Ribecourt with the British close at their heels. This town is a mass of ruins partly on account of shell fire and partly from lack of repairs. The German dugouts were left intact.

Great Stroke for British.
The occupation of Maroing and Manieres was a great stroke for the British as it was a vital link in the crossings for the Escaut river and canal which formed a natural barrier to the advance from this direction. Cavalry, infantry and tanks were poured immediately across these passages and proceeded to work northward. Military necessity has required the mention of cavalry in the first dispatches regarding the present offensive, but it may now be said that the mounted men went into action at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning after the tanks had opened the way through the barbed wire. This was one of the features of the battle in which Gen. Pershing appeared to take deep interest while he was at the front yesterday. It has been a wonderful two days for the horsemen who had been relegated to the rear areas of the war front, with a few exceptions, since early in the war. These cavalry units are now operating over a wide area beyond the Hindenburg line.

ball players of each club of the two major leagues, as suggested by President Johnson, of the American league. "If this is the most patriotic thing I can do, I will do it," he said. "To suggest that baseball should be abandoned to shirk a duty at this time when so many parents are giving their sons and when other business interests are giving their best men to the service of our armed forces and are making other sacrifices for the benefit of our country. It seems to me nothing could be further from the purpose of baseball. We cannot ask the government to grant us the slightest favor. Any amusement or single business is a trifling thing compared to the obtaining of liberty for all the nations of the world."

"I cannot state too strongly that the National league is not in sympathy with any selfish plan of discrimination in favor of its business or players. The National league will continue to help the government in any way possible."

BAN JOHNSON'S STATEMENT.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 22.—President Johnson of the American league said today that his remarks on exemption for selected baseball players yesterday were designed to open up discussion for the subject as clearly the law of certain clubs, if not of the leagues, was menaced by the draft. "We were ready last spring to close every ball park but no need for this was seen by the government," said Mr. Johnson. "I am utterly understood that the draft law is not designed to wreck any business. The president does not want that to happen. Hence the time seems ripe for discussion just how now the law would be administered to give baseball precisely the same guards that are given to other businesses, more or less. The problem is to visualize among the clubs sacrifices which must be made and the American

WHY PEOPLE BUY

LIBERTY GARDENS

The location of Liberty Gardens, on the Bluffton paved road across from Prairie Grove church, and at the intersection of the lower Huntington road, is a most desirable place for a suburban addition could anywhere be found. The topography is fine and one can either select a cleared lot or a wooded one.

The streets, to be graveled, are nice and wide and surely in harmony with the surroundings. The lots facing these streets are all full size, having a frontage of 140 feet or more, enabling one to divide them into two without spoiling the effect.

The paved road, one of the finest leading from the city, to Liberty Gardens is always clean and passable, both summer and winter, enabling one to reach the city in a very few minutes. The high pressure gas line along the paved road permits gas to be had for both light and heat. The Bluffton interurban has two stops very close by, thereby permitting quick transportation.

The new graded school just being finished being only a few rods from Liberty Gardens, will enable one to send their children until ready to enter high school.

Another great asset to Liberty Gardens is that a fine grocery will be erected in the spring, thereby making it very convenient to all who buy. As an investment, Liberty Gardens cannot be excelled. The excellent quality of sand loam soil, underlaid with gravel, will yield abundant crops, as the natural growth of the city in this direction, being only a mile south of South Wood park, and the taxes being about one-fifth of that in the city.

These are a few of the reasons why anyone buying a suburban garden should at least see Liberty Gardens before making a decision. Mr. Rastetter, who has charge of selling Liberty Gardens, is proud to present this opportunity to the public.

league is ready to make." Mr. Johnson said he had no specific comment to make on the view of President Tener of the National league.

SUMMARY OF THE ## DAY'S WAR NEWS

behind the broken wing of the Hindenburg line, potentially impelling the retreat of the Germans who were entrenched between the Bapaume-Cambrai road and the Scarpe river, opposite Arras.

Berlin's account of the battle announces its continuance, coupled with a denial that the front was broken, although admitting that the British had gained ground beyond the German front lines. It claims further the pushing back of Blyng's troops west of Cambrai, where they had advanced north of Fontaine and Anneux and a similar German success southeast of Cambrai the British were forced to give ground south of Rumilly. Rumilly, itself, however, is within 3 1/2 miles of Cambrai and the German mention of a "starting position" here evidently means the line from which the British yesterday began a resumption of their attack.

Gen. Diaz is still holding fast on the Piave line and the extension of the Italian front west to the Trentino, although attacked by heavy masses of Austro-German troops at the crucial point in the line just to the west of the Piave, where the line leaves the river. All the enemy could gain, however, was a few Italian advanced positions on Monte Fontana. Secca says where else the defensive front holding intact. Rome asserts. Berlin claims the capture of the summit of this mountain and of that of Monte Spincucula, just to the northwest.

Triumph in their brilliant stroke against the Hindenburg line, British troops are pushing on Cambrai, only three miles away. In two days the British have gained almost as much ground as at the first four months of the battle of the Somme.

As it was unlike any previous operation on the western front, so was the success of Gen. Byng's assault. Without artillery preparation and with only tanks to cut the wire entanglements, British infantry made such holes in the German defenses that British cavalry is now taking part in the drive toward Cambrai and the Belgian border beyond.

Surprised by the suddenness of the thrust yesterday, the Germans fought back Wednesday but the British pushed steadily toward the immediate goal. Nearly a score of towns and villages have been taken and more than 8,000 prisoners have been captured. The Germans have been driven from the high ground west, southwest and south of Cambrai; this has formerly been German main headquarters in the west and one of the main links in the German supply system, is at the mercy of the British artillery.

While the British attacked on a front of thirty-two miles between St. Quentin and the Scarpe, their main effort was aimed at a fifteen mile salient between the Hindenburg line and the German west of Cambrai, where an advance of more than five miles has been made. At Canting and Noyelles the British are within three miles of Cambrai and on the south they are at Crevecoeur, four miles away. The Scheldt canal has been gained, as have towns on the Scheldt or Escaut river, which valley extends northeast through the town.

In England the victory of General Byng is hailed as the greatest on the western front and it is looked upon as the forerunner of still greater achievements against the supposedly impregnable Hindenburg line. The new tactics of the British apparently overwhelmed the Germans and in the view of military critics hold out great possibilities for the future, especially as to its efficacy without the usual preliminary artillery fire.

The Germans had only five airplanes on the front. Eleven British scouts, flying at a height of fifty feet, because of the mist, wind and rain, sacrificed themselves during the first stages of the offensive.

What effect the British drive will have on the Austro-German invasion of Italy is not yet apparent. The Italians are holding tenaciously to their positions and the invaders have not been able to make a marked gain in two days. A round assault the Italians have repulsed strong attacks, while on the important sector between the Breda and the Piave the Austro-Germans have ceased their attacks, apparently worn out by fruitless efforts against Monte Tomba and the nearby defenses. The Piave line is still unbroken.

French troops have carried out a successful attack on a front of two-thirds of a mile between Craonne and Berry at Bacc. German defenses were captured and 175 prisoners fell into French hands.

In Palestine General Allenby's force is within five miles of Jerusalem on the northwest and six miles on the west. It is not yet clear whether the Turks intend to defend Jerusalem, but if they should do so the defense force seems to be in great danger of being cut off from the north and northwest.

the Piave front. The men and cars appeared to be in good condition.

Making Slaves of Civilians.
Italian aviators have flown over the invaded districts of Venetia say they saw lines of the civilian population under guard, headed for Austria.

William Marconi, inventor of the wireless, has arrived at headquarters and taken a place on the staff of General Diaz in command-in-chief.

The action ebbs and flows around the slopes of three low mountains just west of the river—Monte Tomba, Monte Monfenera and Monte Cornella. Monte Monfenera is just on the edge of the river and it is here that some of the most desperate fighting has occurred. It is the key to the situation as at that point the river turns into the Venetian plain and the whole battle hinges on control of the river passage leading to the plains.

Hammering for Five Days.
The first assault by German forces against the lower Piave was twice northward for this supreme blow. The attacks have intensified steadily each day until yesterday and today when they reached the maximum. Beginning with artillery preparation the Austro-Germans advanced in successive waves, first at the northernmost mountain, Cornella, where the Como brigade of Italians held the line until crowded back by greatly superior numbers. The enemy then took positions back of the town of Quero and violent artillery and infantry attacks were centered on Monte Monfenera and Tomba. Much of the fighting in the mountains was at close quarters with bayonet charges and desperate hand to hand struggles. Through Monday, Tuesday and today charge followed charge and counter-attack followed counter-attack. In some of the bloodiest fighting ground has changed three or four times.

Fighting Hand to Hand.
At the little village of Narainzano, on the slopes of Monte Monfenera, the enemy obtained lodgment and sought to break through the Italian line, but was thrown back by a splendid rally of the Italian lines, which swept forward with cheers until the position was cleared. It was the bloodiest kind of fighting with bayonets first, then with bayonets wrenched from their sockets and used as double-edged knives.

Again the enemy massed forces higher up on Monte Monfenera backed by batteries concentrated from all points. Before this intense shell fire the Italian infantry gave ground slowly until the upper slopes were abandoned. But the Germans went on in unabated desperation and it is still too soon to say what the outcome may be of this heaviest blow to break through to the western Venetian plains.

The conduct of the Italian troops is above all praise. They are contesting every foot of the way, fighting like tigers and with spirit and confidence, even in the face of greatly superior numbers.

BATTLE NEAR CULMINATION.

Italian Army Headquarters, Wednesday, Nov. 21.—(By The Associated Press.) The battle in the mountainous region in the north between the Piave and the Brenta rivers is nearing its culmination. It centers at Monte Grappa and has become a struggle of giants. It is now clear that notwithstanding the great number of troops employed by the enemy, his advance against the Italian line is being checked by the elements of surprise, by treason and other circumstances which favored him at first. Even if the Italians should be obliged to abandon the Piave river line they may be expected to fall back more slowly and offer still more tenacious opposition.

POET'S FERVID APPEAL.

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Nov. 21.—(By The Associated Press.) Gabriele D'Annunzio, addressing a meeting of soldiers fighting on the Piave, said that the waters of the river must be for them a regenerating water. "The Piave today," he said, "is the main artery of our life vein, springing deep from the heart of the old mother country. If it is cut the heart will cease to beat. Enemy possession soils each drop but each one of us is ready to buy it back with all his blood."

Captain D'Annunzio urged his comrades to reconquer all the land in which so many heroes have been buried during the last two years.

Canadian forces whom the commandant so ably. So well was the secret of the advance kept that it was not until the afternoon of the attack that a whisper ran from division to division that the army of their old leader was striking on the south. By evening, when the splendid success of the attack was known, Canadians were jubilant. Now, to the north, French troops to the north had shown her mettle and repudiated the slander of those who said her strength was broken. Canada and Britain at Passchendaele had stormed positions of great value to the enemy and completed their hold on the ridges, which threatened his command of the Belgian coast and Flanders. Another diary related how the men of the company refused to obey the orders of their lieutenant and only did so when the captain declared he would have one man in every four shot unless the orders were obeyed. An interesting tribute to the high morale of the Belgians in occupied territory is contained in another diary. The author, on Sept. 6, wrote: "Yesterday we had a long discussion with people on whom we are billeted, Belgian refugees. The old mother and the eldest daughter of twenty-two had a long debate with Franz and myself about peace and war. It is strange that these people, who have been so long in the British have shelled to ruin, who have been evacuated by the German military authorities because their lives were in danger and who have had a house allotted to them here, are wishing and hoping that the British will drive us Germans out. When we explained to the girl that we held our lines here for three years while the British had definitely hoped to break through our front in 1917 and had only run against a brick wall, and declared that the British would not break through, she said, shrugging her shoulders, '1917 is not over yet—another four months remain.'"

EXPRESS MEN ARRESTED.
Goshen, Ind., Nov. 22.—Gustav Ludwig, a carpenter of Elkhart, Ind., and Max Shumann, an American Express company clerk, of Chicago, are under arrest here, charged with stealing merchandise from the express company, said to be worth between $10,000 and $20,000. Shumann is alleged to have made numerous shipments of stolen goods to Ludwig, a local house and a bar in Elkhart, owned by Ludwig.

DRIVE OF BRITISH

How far the cavalry has gone is not known, but one correspondent at the front says that the British cavalry was "killed" over the further hill, a good six miles from the cracked line," while it is also stated by correspondents that the British line swings much further north than Grainscourt, behind the broken wing of the Hindenburg line. If the latter is true, the retreat of the Germans entrenched between the Bapaume-Cambrai road and the Scarpe river is seriously threatened.

THE BERLIN REPORT.

Berlin, Nov. 22.—Via London.—The battle southwest of Cambrai is continuing, army headquarters announced today. The enemy, the statement declares, did not succeed in breaking through, though he gained a little beyond the German front line.

The text of the German statement reads: "The battle southwest of Cambrai continues. By the massed use of tanks and infantry and by launching his cavalry the enemy sought to effect a break through which was denied to him on the first day's attack. He did not succeed. If the latter is true, the retreat of the Germans entrenched between the Bapaume-Cambrai road and the Scarpe river is seriously threatened.

"The enemy troops which were effectively caught by the fire of our artillery and machine guns and greatly thinned, encountered the counter thrusts of our brave infantry."

FRENCH OFFICIAL REPORT.

Paris, Nov. 22.—The Germans last night made a counter-attack on the Aisne front in an endeavor to recapture the ground won by the French in yesterday's offensive. The French office announces that the enemy was repulsed with serious losses.

West of the Miette river heavy artillery fighting continued through the night. The Germans delivered a counter-attack against our new positions south of Juvincourt. It was repulsed by our fire and cost the enemy serious losses. The number of prisoners taken in yesterday's operation has been four hundred, of whom nine are officers.

"Several raids on our small posts near Bethy, north of hill 344 and in the region of Phargues, were without success. We carried out yesterday and last night several expeditions into the German lines, south of St. Quentin, north of Valenciennes, north of Alilles and in the region of Phargues, where we destroyed and brought back prisoners and several machine guns. "Everywhere else the night was calm."

HAVE TWO GUARDS FOR EACH DRAFTED GERMAN

Changing Attitude of Germans Toward War Shown by Their Diaries.

British Headquarters in France, Nov. 7.—(Mail.)—Illustrations of the changing attitude of many German soldiers toward the war was contained in captured diaries. Describing the departure of draft men from a depot town, the author of one diary writes: "First battalion is to supply draft of ninety-nine men. To conduct them to station, 300 men are detailed, some with rifles to escort draft, others to act as pickets. In the afternoon our men are ready and waiting for their comrades of the first conscription company, who at last arrive. But what a sight it is. In front marches a squadron of guards with rifles and another squad in the rear, while our brave lads in field grey, who as the newspaper relate in such beautiful language are daily going forth to destroy our enemy, inspired by love of the fatherland, the draft is ready. The band strikes up a march and the column begins to move. Guards are so numerous that there is one for every two men. Is it not a scandal that our boys in field grey are led out into the field and give their lives for the fatherland, like martyrs, while the hangman or worse, like cattle to the slaughter. It is not enough that hours before—in fact as soon as the departure of draft men is announced—men not forming part of the draft should be prevented from going into town by pickets everywhere and in every direction. No, we must endure the shame of being escorted to the station by guards. Do not the beautiful lying stories of our German papers place our brave lads in field grey, who for love of the fatherland fight and destroy the enemy, in a totally false light when such things as this happen? Free sacrifices! Indeed."

Another diary related how the men of the company refused to obey the orders of their lieutenant and only did so when the captain declared he would have one man in every four shot unless the orders were obeyed. An interesting tribute to the high morale of the Belgians in occupied territory is contained in another diary. ## FUEL DICTATOR IS

NAMED AT GARRETT

Mayor J. Y. W. McClellan is Appointed by Howard W. Mountz.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Auburn, Ind., Nov. 22.—Howard W. Mountz, of Garrett, county fuel dictator, has named Mayor J. Y. W. McClellan as fuel dictator of this city. Mr. McClellan has taken a very active part in the handling of the fuel question which has confronted our city and will endeavor to do everything possible to take care of it. He has men busy cutting wood which will be hauled to town and ranked at the rear of the city hall.

Another Shipment.
Mrs. Anise Leas made another shipment of clothing Tuesday to the Belgian and French children. There were 300 garments in this shipment making a total of 2,100 garments that have been shipped this week. There are still about 900 unfinished garments, and the ladies are urged to help complete these so that they may be shipped to these needy children as soon as possible.

Only a Fabrication.
A crime which at first startled the people of this city has through the work of Sheriff Frank Baltz proved to be a fabrication and made from whole cloth. Miss Lida Mottinger, a girl of less than fifteen, told a story of being bound and gagged and then criminally assaulted. She had been working in the home of Mrs. Elias Margins of West Fifteenth street for the past three weeks. Sunday, however, it seems that her actions displeased Mrs. Margins and about 9 o'clock she was discharged and told to pack her clothes and leave. She did so and went to the home of her sister, Mrs. William Lyle, of South Van Buren street. The latter who was preparing to move the next day stepped out on the porch and was horrified to see her sister standing there with her head bound up and apparently unconscious. Mrs. Lyle and her father-in-law, Eugene Osborn, carried the girl into the house. Her skirt had been bound tightly around her head. Sheriff Baltz and a physician were called at once. The physician after an examination stated that the girl had been ravished but was unable to account for the normal action of her heart and pulse. She remained in this apparently unconscious condition until 3 o'clock the next morning when cold water used profusely revived her. Sheriff Baltz then questioned her closely and she finally admitted that she had bound herself and placed the grass in her hair and had been raped but with her own consent. The case will be investigated thoroughly and if possible the parties who are guilty of contributing to the delinquency of this girl may face a penitentiary sentence. The girl is an orphan and has made her home for some time with an uncle, William Lyle, who resides on a farm near Butler.

Revival Meeting.
Rev. O. A. Newlin, the well-known evangelist of Winona Lake, and his efficient corps of assistants, will begin a revival meeting in this city next Sunday, at the Methodist church. Miss Eva L. Six will have charge of the work among the women and girls of the church and Rev. Ray G. Upson will have charge of the singing.

Change in Schedule.
The New York Central has made a change in their schedule and beginning next Sunday, they will run four trains a day less on the Fort Wayne & Jackson branch. The 12:04 northbound and the 3 p. m. southbound are the daily trains to be taken off and the Sunday changes will be the 6:56 a. m. northbound and 8:27 p. m. southbound. The schedule of the other trains remains the same.

Auburn Short Notes.
Mayor J. Y. W. McClellan and Marshal Ula Brandon were at Fort Wayne last evening to visit Fred Kruger who is a patient at the Lutheran hospital. They report him improving nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schomberg went to Toledo, Ohio, for an extended visit with their daughter, Mrs. George Halter.

The girls and boys basketball teams of the local high school will go to Butler Friday where they will play the teams of that city.

A marriage license was issued Monday evening to Ralph Horgan and Olga Stehr, both Garrett young people.

In order to conserve on fuel the Presbyterian congregation has decided to hold their weekly prayer meetings at the homes of the members.

LOCAL MARKETS

LOCAL MARKETS ARE QUIET THURSDAY

Off Day on Ft. Wayne Marts
—City Scales and Street Stalls Deserted.

The receipts at the city scales fell far below ordinary Thursday morning. The damp weather and small flurry of snow were probably the most accountable reasons. A trip through the city street market revealed three farmers buddled closely together to keep warm. No vegetables were noticeable at any of the three stalls. One had geese for sale, another fish and the last had a fine display of fresh country meats.

At the city scales receipts and buyers were both small. Two loads of hay, with few buyers, brought only $20 and $23 a ton. No corn reached the market. Two loads of oats averaged 65 and 67 cents a bushel.

AMERICAN MONEY IS SAVING THE SERBIANS

Serbia Has Suffered More Than Any Other Land in the War.

Corfu, Island of Corfu, Oct. 16.—(Staff Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—"The funds advanced to Serbia by the United States government are saving the lives of the Serbian people," said the Serbian minister of public works, Dr. Momtchilo Nintchitch, who has been charged with the expenditure of the advances from the American government.

Dr. Nintchitch had been telling of the various uses the American money was put to, for 136,000 Serbian prisoners in Germany and for interned civilians, refugees, and pensions. But now he turned to a story of the cruelty and butchery which the Bulgars are still prosecuting against the Serbs.

"Serbia has suffered more than any other country," said Dr. Nintchitch, "for not even the ruin of Belgium and the devastated regions of France can compare with what Serbia has suffered. The people of Belgium and France had seaports to go to and escape in ships, and they had railways. But the Serbian people had no ports for escape, and when the Monastir railway line was cut by the Bulgars they had no railway. So they were literally caught in a trap, with no means of egress, and except for those who made the exodus across the mountains, the whole peasant population has come under the control of the Bulgar invaders. Moreover, Belgium and France have been under the eyes of England and America, while Serbia is cut off from the world, with no knowledge of what goes on there, and no mail from there for two years.

"The Serbian peasants have been stripped of everything. All their horses, cattle and live stock has been taken, and their farm machinery has been destroyed. Men, women and children have been killed in the most revolting manner, and on the most flimsy pretext. In this the Bulgars go far beyond the Austrians, for the Austrians have a trial and a formal condemnation to death. But the Bulgars have no trial or condemnation. The order to kill is given and the soldiers are practically free to take life on their own judgment without any order."

As documentary evidence of this killing, the Serbian ministry of foreign affairs have had photographs, copies of which were given to the correspondent showing six Serb peasants strung up side by side from rough stakes driven in the ground, with a cross-piece above for the noose, while groups of soldiers and officers are gathered about, laughing over the contortions of the victims.

"The Bulgar policy is to consider Serbia and the Serbian people as annihilated," Dr. Nintchitch went on. "To this end they hold that the Serbs no longer exist, and every Serb must become a Bulgar, take a Bulgar name, and become a Bulgar citizen."

"Our minister of war, General Terzitch, has just gone through a trying family experience of this kind. His aged mother, over 70 years old, remained in Serbia after the exodus, as she was too old and feeble to make the journey. All trace of her had been lost, but when she was finally located, General Terzitch applied through the relief authorities for her transfer. But to this application the reply has now come back from the Bulgar authorities that Mme. Terzitch cannot leave the country as she had become a Bulgar citizen."

"The drafting of Serb peasants as soldiers in the Bulgar ranks is one of the worst forms of cruelty being practiced. This is systematically carried out, with notices posted in all public places telling all men over 17 years of age to report for military duty. This placing of a whole population in the military service of the enemy is an unheard of cruelty, and contrary to every rule of international dealing in time of war. But it is justified by the Bulgar on the theory that Serbia does not exist and that the Serbs are Bulgars."

"A member of the Serbian chamber of deputies was here yesterday, and gave me a harrowing report of his family still in Serbia. One of the boys had already been killed. The second boy had been ordered to become a Bulgar soldier. The mother protested, whereupon she was sent to Nish and put in prison, where she went crazy. Meantime the boy ordered to become a Bulgar soldier had escaped to the mountains and a price has been placed on his head. This experience in the family of the Serbian deputy is merely typical of the thousands we are hearing of from all quarters daily.

"We have received full details of the revolt which the Serbian peasants remaining in the country directed against this Bulgar oppression," the minister continued. "This has come in letter from a well known teacher. The revolt was really a revolt of women—of the Serbian mothers, wives and sisters in a frantic protest against having their sons, husbands and brothers forced into the Bulgars to fire on Serbian soldiers. This women's movement became so strong that a German division at Nish was sent to quell it. When this failed, two Bulgar divisions were sent against the increasing ranks of the revolt."

"This gave the Bulgars the opportunity to perpetrate a new infamy. Sending their troops against the women, they took as prisoners a large number of the wives, mothers and sisters who had protested against their men being taken as Bulgar divisions, and in this battle order with the Serbian women in front as a screen for the Bulgar troops, these divisions pushed against the main body of the revolting peasants. It was only by such methods of using the women as screens, and by resort to the most extreme cruelty that the revolt was finally put down. In one case, the writer of the letter gives details of seeing a Serbian peasant hung up by the tongue."

The minister spoke of the increasing needs of these Serbian peasants during the coming cold months. Those Serbs who have escaped, and who are here at Corfu and at various Balkan points, can send little or no relief, for they lost everything and have nothing to give.

"It is for this reason," said the minister, "that the funds advanced by the United States government are truly providential, and are saving Serbian lives, thousands of them."

The advance made by the United States was 15,000,000 francs, or $3,000,000. This was designed to cover a period of three months; and at this rate the advance for a year would be $15,000,000 or 30,000,000 francs. The distribution of these funds is under the direction of Dr. Nintchitch, with the American charge d'affaires, H. Percival Dodge, in frequent consultation with him, and exercising American supervision.

In making the expenditures, the first $3,000,000 has been divided in three parts of $1,000,000 each. The first million is being employed for the Serbian soldiers held as prisoners in Germany, Austria and Bulgaria, and for the civilian Serbs interned in these countries. Together, these Serb prisoners and interned aggregated about 200,000. These people get a bare existence in the prison camps where they are held and anything beyond this bare existence comes from the American funds.

The second $1,000,000 is used for pensions and relief to the wounded

Serbian soldiers no longer able to earn a living, and for the relief of the Serbian peasantry remaining in Serbia.

The third 1,000,000 will be used mainly for reconstruction work in Serbia, in replacing bridges, roads, etc., which have been destroyed, so that Serbia, once restored to its people, may be brought back, in part at least, to its former condition.

AUSTRO-GERMAN FOE MASSING ATTACK AT ONE POINT IN LINE

Tremendous Weight of Men and Guns Is Thrown Against Italians at Bend
of Piave River West.

CRUCIAL STAGE OF BATTLE REACHED

Rome, Nov. 22.—The Austro-Germans invading northern Italy reached a few of the Italian outstanding positions on the Italian advanced lines on Monte Fontana Secca, but elsewhere the Teutons were repulsed, the war office announced today.

MASSING ATTACKS.

Italian Army Headquarters, Wednesday, Nov. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—The greatest mass attack which the enemy has made is in progress along the upper Piave river at the point where it bends to the northeast in the Belluno Alps. As the action proceeds the enemy is bringing forward fresh masses of his reserves, including picked troops of the Prussian guard, besides some of the best German troops drawn from the western and Russian fronts. He also has 20,000 mountain troops from lower Hungary, troops which are noted for their brutal vandalism.

The action through the day has shifted westward from Monte Tomba and Monte Montenera to the slopes of Monte Peretta, where the enemy rushes have been checked. The Italian positions remain substantially unchanged in the region of Monte Grappa, which dominates the whole region of lower hills. The monitor fleet which is co-operating with the Italian fleet off the mouth of the Piave is shelling heavily the enemy positions menacing Venice. A number of American Red Cross ambulances passed through headquarters today toward

Summary of the Day's War News

Further progress by General Byng's victorious army towards Cambrai is reported today. British troops pushed along the Bapaume-Cambrai road and captured the town of Fontaine Notre Dame, two and three-quarters miles from Cambrai.

Today's war office statement from London confines itself to reporting this single operation. What is going on within the remainder of the wide field of the British offensive so spectacularly begun on Tuesday, remains veiled by official reticence.

News dispatches from London, however, indicate that everything has not been told of the extent of the British victory. Emphasis is laid on the fact that the cavalry is reported in action in large numbers while some reports declare that the British forces have pushed northward from Graincourt.

LONDON BELLS WILL PEAL REJOICING OF LAND FOR VICTORY

London, Nov. 22.—The bells of London probably will peal today for General Byng's victory, and if the proposal is adopted it will be the first time since the war began that bells have rung for any rejoicing. The Times says it has questioned the authorities concerning the proposed ringing and has found all favorable. The bishop of London highly approved the idea, and already has notified the clergy of the purpose. The lord mayor is equally enthusiastic.

CAVALRY HAS NOT BEEN RELEGATED

Haig Clung to His Horse
Troops Long, But Was Rewarded.

British Army Headquarters in France, Wednesday, Nov. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—The present battle more than any other in the western theater has taken on the savor of fighting in other wars when men struggled in the open and have made brilliant charges against enemy guns. Many military critics have long contended that cavalry was a thing of the past, but the mounted men have refuted this claim.

Field Marshal Haig has clung to his horse troops throughout the weary months of trench fighting. He believed that some day he would have a chance to use them and his judgment has been vindicated. Field Marshal Haig's blow against the Cambrai front represents a true strategy. He had hammered at the enemy in Flanders until they were worn out completely. He had driven them back as far as the mud would permit and had compelled them to call on every ounce of strength they had to maintain themselves. Then he suddenly sprung his surprise attack in an unexpected quarter.

The Hindenburg line on the Cambrai front was the strongest the Germans had laid out in the west. The enemy considered them impregnable. Not only were they strongly fortified but they were protected by a very deep belt of barbed wire, which it was thought that only a concentrated bombardment by great concentration of guns would cut sufficiently to allow the infantry to go through.

British tanks had never before been called upon for such extensive work, but they did in a few hours what the artillery would have required days to accomplish. The Hindenburg line was pierced absolutely on a wide front and to a greater depth than ever before.

The correspondent today inspected the main Hindenburg line near Havreincourt and saw the amazing work done by the iron monsters. In most places they had no trouble either in tearing down the wire or in crossing trenches. There were gaps in the wire entanglements a rod in width where not one vestige of wire was left standing and by following the tracks of the tanks one could see where they had trundled across the trenches as though they were merely scratches in

BERLIN VERSION OF NAVAL FIGHT SOME DIFFERENT

Berlin, Nov. 21.—(Via London.)—The German admiralty has issued the following statement on the recent engagement near Helgoland:

"In the engagement during the British advance into the German light Saturday there participated on the English side in addition to a large number of small cruisers and destroyers, according to reliable observations by German naval forces and airplanes, six large fighting vessels—ships of the line or battle cruisers. The British naval commander, as opposed to the report of the English admiralty, which speaks only of light forces, will not be uncertain on this point.

"The advance of the British was opposed quickly by the Germans with adequate forces, which caused the enemy to retire. According to reliable observations by German forces a number of hits on enemy ships and destroyers were obtained. German airplanes also took part in the fight and bombarded the large English warships."

An opportunity has been offered the school teachers of Allen county and Fort Wayne to assist the government in the present crisis. The call has been made by both the president and the governor and all teachers who can give an hour or more of evenings and on Saturdays between December 1 and 15 in assisting the various exemption boards are asked to call D. O. McComb, superintendent of the schools of the county.

The following letter from Horace Ellis, state superintendent of public instruction and chairman of the educational section of the state council of defense, was received Tuesday by Mr. McComb and is self-explanatory:

"The president of the United States has called upon the governor, adjutant general and the school teachers of Indiana for patriotic assistance.

"Between December 1 and 15 each local exemption board in Indiana must have completed all preliminary steps necessary to put into operation the new regulations for the execution of the selective service law. This will call for clerical help. All teachers who can give an hour or more to the service of their country should immediately offer to their local exemption board such time and service as they can possibly give.

"The provost marshal general of the United States says: In response to the president's foreword to the new regulations, school teachers and clerks are making splendid offers of co-operation and this is a good opportunity to utilize such services. An appeal by the governor to school teachers would

Washington, Nov. 22.—The federal board for vocational education announced today that in response to the call for training of 15,000 drafted men as radio and buzzer operators for the signal corps, the schools of the country are not only now instructing more than two thousand students but that number will probably be doubled within the next two or three weeks. Special efforts were being made to establish training classes in every large city.

ALL IS NOT YET TOLD OF MIGHTY DRIVE OF BRITISH

Victory in France Is Being Extended
Hour by Hour and Its Extent Is

BRITISH PEOPLE TAKE IT VERY QUIETLY

London, Nov. 22.—Thus far England has taken quietly Field Marshal Haig's big victory in France. This morning, despite the big headlines and eulogistic articles in the newspapers and the feelings of quiet exultation evidenced in private, the public went about its business as usual. Not an extra flag was flying and the bells have not yet aroused the people to a realization of what their armies have done in France.

Unlike the Englishmen of the South African war days, when the capture of a town, the release of a garrison or the defeat of a handful of Boers was made the occasion of street demonstrations, those of today take the victories soberly and content themselves with the expectation of bigger things to come.

It is generally known that all has not been told of the extent of the victory in France which is being extended hour by hour. The people were thrilled to know for the first time that the cavalry had been in the action not only in clearing the battlefield, as it had done on several occasions during the past year, but in actually charging artillery and infantry and in widening the breach in the German line, long acclaimed as "impregnable."

The reels tell the story of some of the war's most dramatic events. Captain Brown was wounded in the service of the British army and he will tell what the victory by Gen. Byng Wednesday means.

AMERICAN ARMY THRILLED BY A HEROIC ACTION

With the American Army in France, Nov. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—The American army was thrilled today by the heroic action of a young lieutenant in saving the life of a soldier. A private, a member of a patrol, lost his way and went to sleep in a shell crater in No Man's land last night. The patrol returned and it was found he was missing.

At daylight the Germans saw the American soldier near the line and opened fire with rifles and grenades. The soldier remained in the crater. A lieutenant, whose home is in Wyoming, saw the man was in danger of immediate death and went out on No Man's land through a hail of enemy machine gun bullets several hundred yards, got the soldier and led him back to the American lines amid cheers.

After being rescued, the soldier said that when he looked over the top of the shell crater the enemy saw him immediately, and the first bullets and grenades nearly got him. The attention of the lieutenant was attracted by the firing and through field glasses he saw the shrapnel helmet of his man in the crater. He gave orders for no rifle or machine gun fire on the enemy lines and then started out, making part of the way through a depression in the ground. The Germans turned their attention to him and for some minutes bullets whizzed on all sides, but none hit him. The soldier said that he did not know in what direction his own lines were, otherwise he would have tried to get to them himself.

Many American patrols recently have displayed considerable daring. One got so close to the enemy lines that they could hear a German singing and also heard one officer swearing at the driver of a supply wagon.

BULLETIN.

London, Nov. 22.—The village of Fontaine Notre Dame has been captured by the British in their new offensive, the war office announces. The announcement follows:

Fontaine Notre Dame is two and three-quarters miles southwest of Cambrai, on the main road between Bapaume and Cambrai.

FOR FEDERAL WAGE BONUS

Chiefs of Railway Brotherhoods Said to Like British Plan.

GO TO WHITE HOUSE TO SEE PRESIDENT

Wilson Has Been Given a Free Hand in Wage Matter by Railroads.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Heads of the four railroad brotherhoods came here today at President Wilson's request to discuss with him their proposed new demands for higher wages. The president was prepared to take up the problem with a free hand, so far as the railroads are concerned, having been formally notified that the roads will abide by any steps he sees fit to take.

An entirely new proposal, which it is understood the brotherhoods plan to make, is that rail transportation during the war with respect to relations of the carriers and employees be dealt with by the formation of a new federal commission to have complete jurisdiction and power over the companies and the railway men.

Want a New Board. The plan, it is stated, is to have the president appoint such committee with plenary power headed by some prominent official thoroughly conversant with the transportation system.

The proposition of intervention by the existing board of mediation and conciliation, of which Judge William L. Chambers is chairman, is understood to be one of the factors in the proposal for a new commission. The brotherhood heads are said to be unalterably against any plan which would give the present board any power with relation to wage demands. They want a new and distinct commission similar to that now in control for the war of England railroad lines.

Propose Federal Bonuses.

The brotherhood chiefs also are expected to urge their claims for higher wages, suggesting that the increase come either with the carriers themselves or in war bonuses from the government along the line of the British bonus system. From the railroad President Wilson has the letter of Fairfax Harrison, chairman of the American Railway Association's executive committee, committing the roads unreservedly to the principle of arbitration and placing their interests in the president's hands for any disposition the president shall make in the public interest.

Those at the Conference.

The brotherhoods to meet the president are W. G. Leach of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; Warren C. Stone, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; A. B. Garretson, of the Order of Railway Conductors; and W. S. Carter of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

Any announcement regarding the conference, Mr. Lee said, before going to the white house, must come from the president. Refusing to discuss the possibility of a strike or the brotherhood's attitude, he said:

"We are here at the president's request to receive and answer any proposition he may have to make."

RABBIT AND PET STOCK ASSOCIATION FORMED

Meeting Held Wednesday Night in Assembly Room of Court House.

The Rabbit and Pet Stock association was formed in a meeting held Wednesday night in the assembly room of the court house. A large attendance of over a hundred pet stock fanciers were present at the opening meeting. This organization will be a branch of the National Breeders and Fanciers Association of America. H. N. Ashton, national president, was present at the meeting and gave an interesting lecture on the pet stock organization.

Twenty-nine charter members were taken in at this meeting but the charter will be extended for a short time. Al Lamont was chosen president. C. S. Harris, vice president; E. S. Evans, secretary, and Homer Irven, treasurer. Theodore Berberich was elected superintendent. A board of directors of five men and six honorary vice presidents were also chosen. The latter six will arrange for any special programs planned by the organization.

The first Sunday of each month has been chosen as the regular meeting night but the place of meeting has not yet been decided. A special meeting will be held some time this week to discuss the annual show. It is not thought that the organization will hold a show this winter but if they do it will probably be held in conjunction with the poultry exhibit, which will be held soon.

GIVES CONCERT.

The Shrine band, with Director John L. Venable in charge, assisted by Miss Ethel Doud and F. E. Stouder, gave a concert in the Scottish Rite cathedral last evening which was greatly enjoyed by a large audience of Shriners and their families. A patriotic incident of the evening was a bugle call from the cornetist and the march of a patrol trio down the center aisle to the platform.

COUNTY WORK WILL HAVE TO WAIT AWHILE

Little Encouragement is Given in Letter from R. S. Lovett.

All county work will have to wait until the need of freight cars by the government is not so great, declares R. S. Lovett, appointed by the president to administer the priority in transportation, to William G. Tonkel, county highway superintendent. As a result much work in the county is being held up. The letter to Superintendent Tonkel follows:

"Replying to your telegram of recent date, I beg to say that the national necessity for preferred commodities is so urgent that cases of individual or local convenience must yield for the time being so far as open top cars are concerned. Possibly box or flat cars may be used.

"The order will be revoked just as soon as the critical stage of the necessity has passed, but, in the meantime, it must remain unimpaired by exceptions in particular cases, which from precedent would become so numerous as to break down the rule."

MARRIED CHORUS GIRL.

Now Charles Frederick Realizes Mistake and Sues for Divorce.

Charles Frederick has filed suit in the superior court asking for a divorce from Gladys Frederick, whom he married last spring. Mrs. Frederick was a chorus girl and was world-wise, while he was an unsophisticated country lad who had much to learn. He charges that Mrs. Frederick communicated to him a venereal disease, which has rendered him utterly unfit to work and has caused him much suffering and distress. They were married March 31 and separated May 22. A few days ago Mrs. Frederick had her husband arrested on a charge of wife neglect, but when the court heard the facts Frederick was released. The plaintiff is represented by Martin H. Luecke and Thomas & Townsend.

CRUEL FOR YEARS.

Aletta Counsellor Seeks Divorce From George Counsellor.

Charging that her husband was cruel to her for over eighteen years, Aletta Counsellor filed suit Thursday in the superior court asking for a divorce from George Counsellor. She also alleges that he was cruel to their children and further living with him is entirely out of the question.

Counsellor is a foreman for the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company and according to the complaint earns $3.50 a day. Mrs. Counsellor asks for a restraining order to prevent the traction company from paying to her husband his money until disposition has been made of the suit.

CO-RESPONDENT NAMED

In Suit for Divorce Filed by Gaylord Clark Against Zora.

Naming the notorious John Doe as co-respondent, Gaylord Clark has filed suit in the superior court asking for a divorce from Zora May Clark. Clark accuses his wife with too great a friendship for other men. Mr. and Mrs. Clark were married in 1912 and separated in 1914. The wronged husband is represented by Attorney Thomas G. Moorhead. Clark is a traveling salesman for a Cleveland concern.

SUES FOR $1,000.

Aetna Insurance Company Claims Dr. Franklin Ault Owed That Amount.

The Aetna Life Insurance company filed suit Thursday in the circuit court against Charles H. Gumpfer and William M. Enslin, who were on the bond of the late Dr. Franklin Ault, an agent of the company. The complaint alleges that Ault was indebted to the company in the sum of $1,000 at the time of his death. The insurance company is represented by Leonard, Ross and Zollars.

Traveler Had to Pay.

P. M. Mooradyn, a traveling merchant, who has a display of oriental rugs in a local store, was compelled to pay $99.50 in taxes on goods valued at $3.00 by William Eggegan, county assessor. Mr. Eggegan learned that Mooradyn was in the city and paid him a visit. Before Mooradyn knew who Eggegan was he had told the assessor the value of his stock and much other valuable information, which resulted in him having to pay into the county coffers $99.50 in taxes.

Changes of Venue Granted.

Changes of venue were granted Wednesday in two cases. One, that of Walter Bowman against James H. Bolens, was sent to the Dekalb circuit court and the case of Charles E. Stuck against the Maumee Dairy company, was sent to the Adams circuit court.

Perpetual Injunction.

A perpetual injunction was granted Thursday by Judge Carl Yapple in superior court to restrain John Seibert, an alleged strikebreaker, from going on the premises of the Western Gas Construction company or in any way interfering with employees of that institution.

Bank Brings Suit.

Suit to compel Clinton A. Lindemuth to appear and give an accounting of his property was filed Wednesday by the Woodburn Banking company. The petition sets out that the bank last spring obtained a judgment for $51.62 against Lindemuth, which he has failed to pay.

AMERICA HAS HAD EFFECT

Admiral von Tirpitz Admits United States in War Hurts German Morale.

TOO SLOW GETTING AT SUBMARINE WAR

Kaiser Should Have Defied Wilson in Beginning Says Admiral.

Amsterdam, Nov. 22.—"America's entry into the war was disadvantageous to us in morale and many other ways," said Admiral von Tirpitz, former German minister of marine, in addressing a meeting of the Fatherland party at Dresden. "We ought to have reckoned with the fact that the American trust magnates were bound to desire our defeat."

"I regret that we did not remain firm in the face of President Wilson's threats. If we had done so things probably would have been very different, but now we must take them as they are."

FEW MORE BREAK

SMALLPOX QUARANTINE

Prompt Action Will Be Taken Against All Persons Violating Orders.

Following closely the breaking of quarantine by William Leinker, Tuesday, several more cases have been reported to the health offices of violations of this regulation. Affidavits against John and Henry Niebuhr, 1026 Grant street, were filed Thursday. Both men left their home after the quarantine card had been placed and will consequently be haled in police court as soon as the quarantine is lifted.

Three more cases were reported to the health office by neighbors of persons breaking quarantine. Thursday afternoon and these will be investigated and if found true prompt action will be taken.

"Filing affidavits will become a part of our routine work if people insist on breaking the health law. Prosecution will take a lot of valuable time, but confinement is the greatest preventative possible," stated a health officer when asked about the affair.

Fewer cases of smallpox have been reported within the last few days than for quite a while. There are now close to eighty cases in the city, but unless the increase takes place very suddenly they will be lessened in great number within the next week.

BOYS LOOKING FORWARD TO THANKSGIVING DAY

Several of Them Now Stationed at Camp Taylor Are Coming Home.

Sergeant Major Ernest F. Fruechte, formerly of The Sentinel editorial staff, writes to the office force as follows, from Camp Zachary Taylor, Kentucky:

"It has been a long time since I have had the opportunity of a few minutes time in writing to those I often think of. But army life and army regulations will not always permit you to do as you chose. However, I have nothing to complain of as we have been treated the best since our arrival here."

"Perhaps you have heard that no newspaper correspondents are permitted to write to their papers back home unless the articles are censored. I have been so very busy during the past few weeks that I have not had the time to write. However, nothing of any great news importance has happened during the time. Submitting everything to the censor requires a great deal of time."

"However, I wish to gladly announce that I will be home on Thanksgiving day. The 17th battalion football team will play Kendallville at League park. The Hundred Per Cent club is backing the proposition. A boost, or rather several boosts will help the boys get back the cash required to bring them back to Fort Wayne."

"We will arrive there on Wednesday evening about 5:30 o'clock over the Wabash railroad and will depart again for Camp Taylor about midnight on Thanksgiving Day."

AZORES IN BARRED ZONE

Germany Extends Area of Submarine Warfare to Atlantic Isles.

SAYS ENEMIES ARE HARMING NEUTRALS

Trying to Squeeze Out Tonnage That Prefers to Remain in Port.

Amsterdam, Nov. 22.—A German barred zone, a dispatch from Berlin announces, has been established around the Azores, which have become in economic and military respects important bases of Atlantic navigation. The extension of the German maritime barred zone is announced from Berlin in an official memorandum which says:

"The hostile governments are endeavoring by the intensification of the hunger blockade against neutral countries to force out to sea neutral cargo spaces which is keeping in port, and to press it into their service. As hostile shipping and shipping sailing in hostile interest are being supplemented by violent measures, the German government in its struggle against Great Britain's domination of violence which tramples under foot all rights, especially those of smaller nations, finds itself obliged to extend the field of operation of its submarines."

It adds that the extension principally consists of the "establishment of a barred zone around the Azores, which had become in economic and military respects important hostile bases of Atlantic navigation, and in closing a channel to Greece hitherto left open in the Mediterranean as it should be utilized by the Venzolles government not so much for the supply of the Greek population with foodstuffs as for the transport of arms and ammunition."

The memorandum then details at length and specifically the extended zone around western Europe, the extreme points touched being a point three miles south of the Faroe islands in the north, 43 north latitude in the south and 30 west longitude in the west.

It is stated also that neutral and Belgian relief ships now within the Azores and Greek barred zone may safely leave before Nov. 29 and they are granted "an adequate period of grace" if they entered the barred areas without foreknowledge of the extension.

The Azores islands are in the North Atlantic, about two-thirds of the way between the United States and Europe, and belong to Portugal.

An Amsterdam dispatch last Monday said that German Vice Admiral Kirchhoff, writing in the Neuste Nachrichten, declared that the United States had "established herself on the Azores and constructed fortifications at Ponta del Gado." He attempted to point out that such possession would threaten important world ship routes and interfere with connections with Germany's colonial possessions.

HAY MAY DROP AT ANY TIME

Government Buyers Withdraw from Field as Demand is Supplied.

BALER'S BUYING PRICE MISLEADS FARMERS

Dealers State That Local Markets Have Not Yet Received Adequate Supply.

A number of local dealers handling government contracts for hay predict that the bottom will fall out of the local hay market. The price on hay has been soaring beyond the "skies" during the last few weeks by the price that the balers going through the country have been offering. A representative of a large firm, buying hay for the government, produced a letter from his concern Friday ordering him to stop buying as the demand was nearly filled. This buyer states that with the cancelling of the government orders and the releasing of cars held for government shipments the local hay price will undoubtedly drop. He stated further that the dealers would not receive more orders for baled hay for several months.

It is stated that the present high hay prices have been caused by the farmers' misunderstanding of the prices quoted him by the hay balers who are buying hay for the army cantonnements and training camps. The farmer has been assuming that the $20 hay price offered him was net when in reality the price contains also the cost of baling which the farmer must pay. When it is seen that the farmer must furnish three men to pitch hay to the baler, board the members of the crew, buy coal or gasoline for the machine and then haul the hay to the nearest market the $20 price is really not more than $14 or $15.

This representative stated further that when the check came to the farmer from the government he would wake up to the fact that the returns will not amount to more than the normal market return. The balers are buying no more hay for the present and farmers will have to let go at prices far below the present quotations or be caught with crops on hand that they cannot feed up, according to this dealer.

At the local market the predicted drop is not expected as the price is controlled by the demand and the local markets have not yet received an adequate supply. Fort Wayne markets require at least eighteen loads of hay a day for the local demand and this amount has not been received at the city scales. It is believed by many that the price will remain near the $25 mark until the first of the year.
